

FUNERALS OF LITTLE FIRE VICTIMS BEGIN

First are Held This Morning and More Will Follow Saturday, Sunday and Monday

Memorial Services for Unidentified Dead to be Held Monday---Many Homes are Destitute ---Coroner Burke Investigating.

Cleveland, O., March 6—Soon after 9 a. m., Friday, a little procession tolled slowly down a maddy street of Collinwood.

First a white hearse. A small white coffin lay inside. Behind came two carriages. In one a mother, silent, dry-eyed in her grief. By her side the father, a workman. His face was white. His head was bowed. In a little while another white hearse appeared. And then still another. A single carriage followed it. A silence fell upon the streets. These were the first funerals of the children burned to death in their school. Others followed at intervals of half an hour. Many others were set for the afternoon.

The big general memorial service for the unidentified was set for Monday morning. Services will be held then simultaneously in all the Protestant churches. These services are particularly for the unidentified. They are to be at the same time a memorial for all the victims of the fire.

Saturday morning solemn high mass will be held in St. Joseph's church. There six little white caskets will lie in a row before the altar. High mass will be held at the same hour Saturday in St. Mary's church. Most of the congregation are Greiners. At 10 a. m., Friday, the funeral of three little victims was held at the German Baptist church. Many people whose boys and girls were burned to death in the fire had come to Cleveland to work in the shops and lived in Collinwood only a year or two.

Many of these children are sent to former homes for burial. For others ministers from other towns have come to hold services at the houses. Some of the bodies were taken away from Collinwood by train, Thursday night. Nearly eighty dead children have been prepared for burial at one undertaking establishment in Collinwood. One burial case factory in Cleveland has been working day and night since the fire to supply enough little white coffins to hold all the bodies.

One of the citizens' committees has arranged for fifteen quartets from Cleveland to sing at the childrens funerals. Children from other Collinwood public schools will serve as pall bearers.

Definite plans for the memorial service Monday were made at a meeting of the main citizens' committee Thursday night. It will be left to each minister to arrange the service in his own church. According to present arrangements the bodies of the unidentified children will not be taken to the churches. They will be placed in a funeral car at the conclusion of the services the cars will start for Lakeview cemetery, where all will lie together.

The village is to purchase a lot for them three, and a large monument will mark the place where they are buried. They now lie in two long rows in the engine house of the town hall.

One of the last recognized late Thursday was identified by fillings in her teeth. No other distinguishing mark remained. For most of the (Continued on Page 2, 6th Col.)

COLLINWOOD SUFFERERS

Will Receive $25,000 from the State—House Passes Appropriation and Bill is Sent to Senate.

Columbus, March 6.—The house by a unanimous vote this morning passed the Rolf bill appropriating $25,000 for the Collinwood sufferers. It was rushed over to the senate, and it is hoped to have the governor's signature attached to it before night.

Columbus, March 6.—The Collinwood relief bill was promptly passed by the senate and signed by the Governor who at once appointed Patrick Westrop, mayor of Collinwood, Mayor Johnson of Cleveland, and G. Skinner, president of the Collinwood Board of Trade, as members of a commission to have charge of the distribution of money. $25,000 is available immediately.

HEADON COLLISION

TWO TRACTION CARS MEET IN A GRADE NEAR DUNKIRK, NEW YORK, TODAY.

Motorman and Twenty Passengers Are Seriously Injured and Nine Are Taken to Hospital.

Dunkirk, N. Y., March 6.—A head-on collision between a Chautauqua traction car coming down grade at full speed and a southbound car climbing the grade occurred today near here, seriously injuring Motorman Goodwin and 20 passengers in the runaway car, nine of whom are in the Westfield hospital. Traction employees say that the brakes failed to work.

STEEL BRIDGE FALLS.
Bellevue, Pa., March 6.—A steel bridge weighing six tons, while being placed over the Big Four tracks by workmen of the Ohio railroad yesterday, fell, and shattered the railroad tracks. All trains were delayed. Several workmen had narrow escapes from death.

MORE POWER IS WANTED

By Railway Commission So They Can Compel Traction Company to Erect Safety Appliances.

Columbus, March 6.—In a special report to Governor Harris on the collision between a steam train and trolley car at Toledo, February 15, when eight persons were killed, the state railway commission calls for legislation giving it the same power to compel safety devices at trolley crossings as it has over steam roads and for strengthening laws relating to elimination of dangerous crossings at grades. The commission may compel gates, bells, flags or other safety precautions at dangerous steam crossings, but has no such power over electric lines. It asks this power be conferred.

CHARGED WITH MURDER IN THE FIRST DEGREE

New York, March 6.—With her husband and 16-year-old daughter to be the most important witnesses against her, Mrs. Teresa Stein, 37 years old, was placed on trial before Judge Blanchard, in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court, charged with murder in the first degree.

Mrs. Stein is charged with shooting Frank Gertinger, 24 years old, who boarded with the family at No.

329 East Eighty-third street, on August 4, 1907. After killing the man Mrs. Stein threw herself from the window and fell five floors to the courtyard below—about sixty feet. Her fall was broken by clothes lines, but her life was despaired of for a long time. After she recovered she was taken to the Tombs.

Louis Stein, husband of the defendant, was jealous of the boarder, and the shooting occurred after a day of quarrels.

CANAL INSPECTED BY LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FRIDAY AFTERNOON

The legislative committee from Columbus, arrived in the city today at 12:25, over the Baltimore & Ohio, for the inspection of the canal here, having come at the request of the local board of trade.

The committee consists of Messrs. George Little, E. L. Lybarger, H. C. Spicer, J. W. Conroy, W. L. Atwell, M. A. Wynne, Eugene Adler, N. A. Kehnast, L. G. Neely, H. W. Meacham and Robert W. Howard.

They were met by a local committee of citizens, the board of trade, and the city council and escorted to the Hotel Warden, where luncheon was served.

In the Newark committee were Secretary J. M. Mayone, F. C. Evans, Wm. Kellenberger, J. S. Kuster, Col. W. C. Wells, W. A. Veach, O. D. Irwin, Mayor Atherton, Wm. E. Miller, and members of the board of public service, Taylor, Pitzer and Livingston; William Smith, Charles Stasel, Fred Speer, John Doyle, C. E. Rosebraugh, Dr. W. H. Knauss, Dr. D. M. Smith, Squire D. H. Pigg, Wesley Montgomery, Charles Bolin, I. M. Phillips, H. S. Fleck, W. W. Neal, A. H. Heiser, H. D. Murphy, Henry Baker, David Brown, George Havens, F. C. Kennedy.

Following luncheon the party was taken in automobiles to inspect the canal, the following route being taken. West Main street to the aqueduct, down Sixth street to the canal, down canal to Second Second to Webb, down Webb to Baltimore street and from there to Allen street, after which a general tour of the city will be taken.

Automobiles were furnished by Murray Conley, H. S. Fleck, A. H. Heiser, Channing Thompson, E. Cary Norris and J. J. D. McNamar and Dr. D. M. Smith.

Chief Engineer Vorcham, of the board of public work, stated that while the committee would doubtless favor the temporary abandonment of the canal from the limit named, it was a question what kind of the legislature would take as a vote. He said that it was generally believed that an appropriation for the strengthening of the artificial bank of the reservoir would be best considered first by the legislature, and then later the matter of filling the canal in Newark would stand a better chance.

The fact that the city proposed to bear the expense was urged to the front, but it must also be remembered that the attorney general has expressed himself against any form of tampering with the canal, and this is feared by some as an obstruction that may figure in the action of the legislature.

BENEFITS

That Would Accrue to City if Canal Would be Filled Up—Ideal Sites For Various Purposes.

The State of Ohio has not yet given the City of Newark permission to fill the canal, but it should be done and the chances look favorable at this time. One of the enthusiastic workers for the project in talking over the benefits that would accrue from filling the old ditch, delivered himself as follows:

"That's the place to put a market house and we need one. If the city builds a proper one it would pay well as an investment. Every city of any importance has a market house and the butcher and larger truck guilds are glad to pay rent for space under shelter. Look at he days when the weather is bad that there is hardly any market; the people that sell will not attend on account of lack of accommodations, and the women buyers can not risk their health stopping around on the street for hours.

"Then think of the increase in the property valuation along the canal. Every property there would have a good frontage and some properties that are deep would have two fronts. "It could be made into a boulevard, or the railroad line could be extended clear up to the Pennsylvania lines in the west end of the city, thereby making freight deliveries to some of our larger interests. The soft water for steam users could be delivered through a large pipe laid in the bottom of the canal bed, and all along the canal would be ideal sites for light manufacturing.

"Most cities contemplating such improvements are compelled to go out usually quite a distance but here in the nature of things, we can have all these good things happen to us right in our midst, and they will come too, if the committee will keep hammering at the powers that be."

SOLID

Delegation Chosen for Bryan at Convention

SPLENDID PLATFORM

Upon Which National Platform Will be Modeled, Adopted

Great Leader's Every Appearance Signal for Cheers From All the Delegates.

Omaha, Neb., March 6.—A solid delegation for Wm Jennings Bryan was chosen by the Nebraska state Democratic convention Thursday, to attend the national convention in Denver.

William J. Bryan dominated the convention at all times, although not a delegate. His every appearance was the signal for cheer, his speech during the evening was vociferously applauded, and the platform which was adopted and upon which the national platform will be modeled, was practically his handiwork.

Mr Bryan spent the entire forenoon with the committee on resolutions, revising the platform, the principal features of which are:

More laws against campaign contributions from corporations. Opposition to centralization of power. Jurisdiction by state courts over foreign corporations.

Election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

A law to prevent the duplication of directors among competing corporations.

A license system which will, without abridging the rights of a state, make a federal license necessary to a manufacturing or trading corporation engaged in interstate commerce and protect the public from watered stock.

A low compelling all such corporations to sell to all purchasers on the same terms.

An immediate revision of the tariff to restore it to a revenue basis.

The establishment of a national income tax and a national inheritance tax.

The speedy completion of the Panama canal.

DAMAGES

Sought From Twenty-Eight Alleged Kukluxers for Cruelties Meted Out to Indiana Couple.

Paducah, Ky., March 6.—Suits were filed yesterday in the United States court by Robert H. Hollowell and his wife Mary for $50,000 damages each against 28 alleged Kukluxers in Lyon and Caldwell counties. Allegations are made that on May 2, 1907, the defendants visited the homes of the plaintiffs and unmercifully whipped and beat them, that Mrs. Hollowell was shot in the face and after being knocked down was kicked several times, that threats were made to burn their home if they did not leave the state at once which they did, and that they are now residents of Vandenburg, Ind.

These cruelties were meted out to them, they allege, because they were witnesses in a case against some of the defendants on charges of incendiarism. Deputy United States Marshal Elwood Neal is now serving subpoenas in the case.

FATHER'S SUCCESSOR

WILL BE APPOINTED BY SON—AN UNUSUAL SITUATION IN VERMONT.

Senate and House Adjourned Out of Respect to Memory of the Late Senator Proctor.

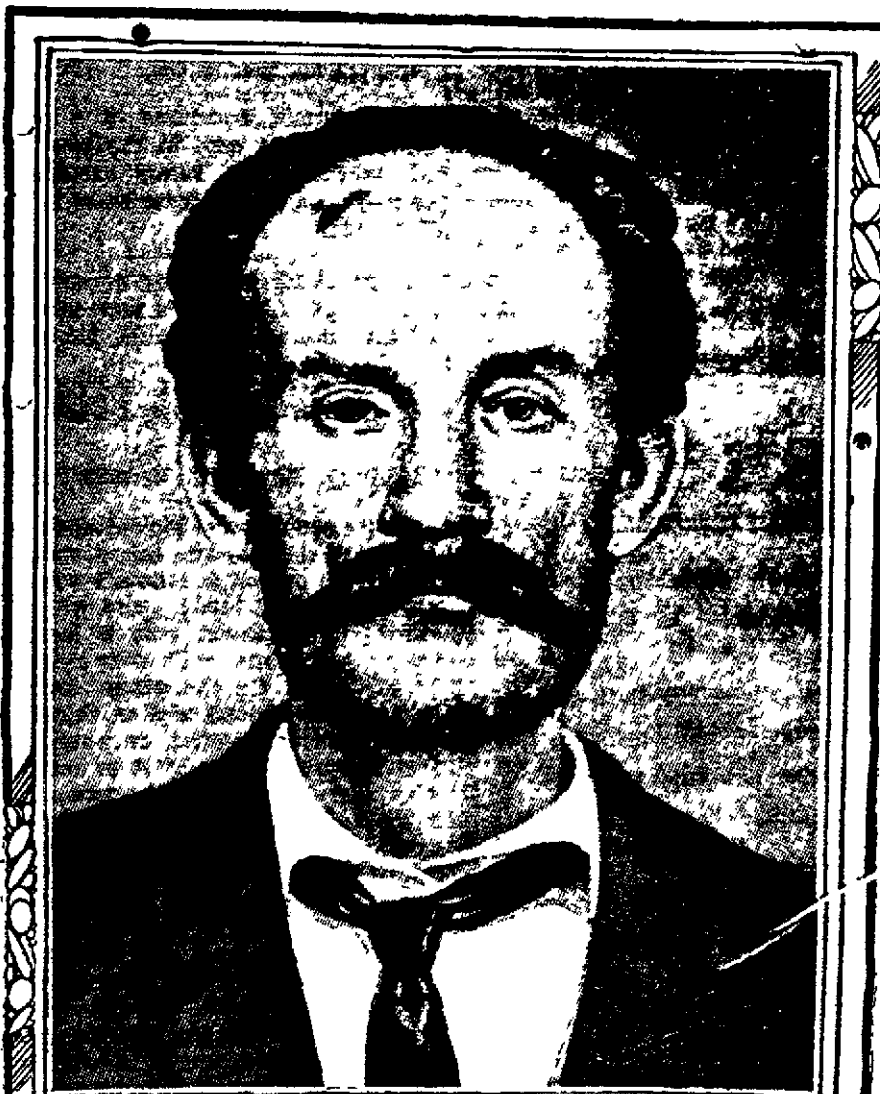

Washington, March 6.—Both houses of Congress adjourned in respect to the memory of Senator Proctor of Vermont at noon Thursday. When the Senate convened Senator Dillingham, the junior senator from Vermont, notified the Senate of Senator Proctor's death and offered resolutions of condolence. As soon as they were adopted, the Senate adjourned. The resolutions were sent to the House where they were adopted promptly and the House adjourned.

Special committees from the Senate and House accompanied Senator Proctor's body to Vermont, having left Washington last night. His death is the fifth since Congress adjourned last year. Memorial services are to be held in memory of each of these senators on Saturdays in the near future.

The death of Senator Proctor creates an unusual situation in Vermont. It is the first time in the history of the country that a son has been called upon to appoint the successor to his father in the United States Senate.

The situation is more complicated, owing to the well understood wish of Senator Proctor, that his eldest son, Fletcher, the present governor of Vermont, should succeed him at the expiration of his term. Governor Proctor preferred to not enter the Senate, but his father insisted and finally obtained the consent of his son to the plan. In the present situation this is impossible as the governor must appoint another. The legislature of Vermont does not meet until October, when the successor will be elected.

CHINA

Anxious Over Demand and May Not Yield

A CLASH IS FEARED

China Claims Japs are Active In Counterfeiting Their Coins

Tokio Statement Shows Attitude of Government Officials in Ta Tsu Controversy.

Pekin, March 6.—Japan's demand that the Chinese government shall release the S. S. Ta Tsu and guarantee the shippers of her alleged contraband cargo against loss, is causing the government considerable anxiety, although there is no inclination to yield. The demands are especially distasteful in view of the fact that the Chinese government has absolute knowledge that the chronic revolution in several of the provinces is being supported by the trade in contraband rifles and ammunition which is fostered by the Japanese government in order to dispose of the arms and ammunition captured from the Russians.

Another great field of Japanese activity is the counterfeiting of Chinese coins which has resulted in the debasement of the whole copper coinage of the empire.

The Japanese now maintain that the Ta Tsu was seized in Macao waters, outside the jurisdiction of China and that her papers show that she was bound for Macao and that the cargo was not destined for the revolutionists.

Tokio, March 6.—Every effort is being made by the Japanese government to minimize the seriousness of the Ta Tsu incident and while the action already taken has almost the force of an ultimatum to China, the official press unanimously deprecated any action tending to humiliate China and urges forbearance and the exercises of all the resources of diplomacy.

The budget was passed Thursday by the house of Peers without a dissenting vote. A statement expressing the attitude of the government was issued Thursday by the foreign office. The statement is as follows:

"Japan has not issued an ultimatum to or threatened China with the illegal seizure of the Ta Tsu. We are depending upon the good sense of the Chinese government to release the vessel, express regrets and pay compensation."

It is reported that China is adhering to her proposition of a joint customs investigation into the seizure of the Ta Tsu, offering to release her, pending the investigation, upon proper security.

His friends here are preparing to receive him tomorrow, when he returns from Mountsville, W. Va., prison, to begin life anew amid the scenes of his downfall.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS

Cheap Substitutes and "Just As Good As."

Unscrupulous dealers, mindful only of profit and caring nothing for the health of their patrons, are offering for sale low-grade, impure whiskey, which they tell you is as "good as Duffy's."

It is a cheap concoction and fraud, intended to deceive the people. Of course, when a remedy has been before the public so long, has been prescribed and used by the best doctors and in all the prominent hospitals, and has carried the blessing of health into so many thousands of homes as DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY has, imitations are bound to arise. But they can imitate the bottle and label only—no one can imitate the contents.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is an absolutely pure distillation of malted grain; great care being used to have every kernel thoroughly malted, thus destroying the germ and producing a predigested liquid food in the form of a malt essence, which is the most effective tonic stimulant and invigorator known to science; softened by warmth and moisture, its palatability and freedom from injurious substances render it so that it can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. Any firm that will sell imitation or substitution goods will sell impure drugs. The firm that is dishonest in one thing would not hesitate to be dishonest in another. Whenever you see imitation and substitution goods offered for sale by a firm, beware of anything and everything put up by that firm. You endanger your own life and the lives of your family and friends by dealing with them.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS! Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey

is sold in sealed bottles only—never in bulk. A facsimile of the genuine bottle, full size, is printed here so that you may easily recognize it. It is our own patented bottle—round, amber colored, and with the name "Duffy's Malt Whiskey Company" blown into the glass. The trademark—the Old Chemist's Head—is on the label, and over the cork there is an engraved paper seal. Be certain this seal is not broken.

REFUSE IMITATIONS AND SUBSTITUTES

When you ask for DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKY be sure you get the genuine which is the only absolutely pure malt whiskey containing medicinal, health-giving qualities. NEW CLERGYMAN FOR ST. LUKES

DR. RAMSEY OF CAMBRIDGE, WILL FILL GRANVILLE PULPIT.

Election of Presbyterian Church Officers—Large Barn Completed—Denison College Items.

Granville, March 6.—At a meeting of the rectory of St. Luke's Episcopal church of this place, held at the home of Mr. Albert Day on College street, for the purpose of furthering plans of calling a resident clergyman to fill the local pulpit, a letter from Archbishop Dodson of Columbus, was read, bringing the information that Dr. Ramsey, now of Cambridge, had been nominated to take charge of the St. Luke's parish. The choice of Dr. Ramsey for the local work was most acceptable to the members of the church, and resolutions were adopted calling him to fill the pulpit as soon as possible. It is earnestly hoped and expected that Dr. Ramsey will accept the call to Granville. It is the wish of the members of the congregation that the church building be put in good condition to receive the new minister, and a committee was appointed to install gas lights in the church and to make other necessary improvements.

The election of elders and deacons of the Presbyterian church was held the boards being represented as follows: Session: William Howe, A. R. Wright, Morgan Jones, Albert Linell, D. E. Jones, Sidney Nichols, E. L. Jones, Robert Owen, Charles Loughridge; trustee board: Dr. Davies, president, T. G. Baker, secretary, Fred Miller, treasurer, John DeBow, J. M. Jones, Thomas Kier, William Jones, William Mitchell, Benjamin Thomas; Deacons: Joseph Jackson, Evan Jones, Charles Twining. Rev. David Dempster will entertain the above officers and their wives at a six o'clock supper and social evening, in the church parlors, Friday, March 13th. Mrs. Warner Pond has most kindly agreed to take charge of all arrangements.

The large and capacious barn of Messrs. Case and Robinson, the enterprising horsemen and stock dealers, located on East College street, has been completed and is one of the finest barns in the county, being 32 x 50 feet. They are now caring for 40 head of horses and when their large shed adjacent to the barn, is completed, they will be able to house from 75 to 80 head of horses. They expect to handle all kinds of stock, as well as the best grades of feed. At present they have in their barn several match teams of horses of unusual beauty. During the past week they have disposed of quite a number of animals and are very much encouraged. These gentlemen expect to sell live stock of all kinds after they get everything in first class shape similar to the Lamb Bros. at Baltimore.

Saturday night the Doane academy basketball team will close its season with a game with the Columbus Mutes. The Mutes have the reputation of having one of the fastest basketball teams in Central Ohio and a rattling good game may be expected. There will also be a game between the Newark High seconds and the Granville high.

Mr. S. M. Dickinson, "poulterer," Clouse Lane, sold to Mr. E. H. Jewett, Ugelow & Brooks of Detroit, Michigan, 111 "craie" coal kings, 50 white Plymouth Rock chickens. This is a very fine sale, as Mr. Jewett had his man visit some of the largest breeders of the West before purchasing, which is especially gratifying to Mr. Dickinson.

On Thursday evening the Franklin Literary society of Denison University presented Sheridan's "Rivals" at the Opera House. Through all the acts the boys showed much dramatic ability, and the play was greatly appreciated by the large audience present.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mason of Columbus, who have been visiting relatives and friends in Granville for several days, have returned home.

Miss Margaret Edwards of Postoria, after a pleasant visit here with friends, has returned home.

The students of Doane Academy recently took up the matter of athletics for the academy, with the result that it was decided that athletics should enter more of a figure in the curriculum of the school. A meeting of all the students of the academy interested in the matter was held in College chapel Thursday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock and perfected an organization, adopted a constitution and by-laws and colors. C. D. Coons of the board of control of the academy presented the football "D. A. C."

The names of the honor winners of Doane Academy were made public Thursday. They are as follows: Phil S. Bradford, first; C. K. Boyer, second; Carl Eschman, fourth; John Samuels, fifth. The second class is yet to be selected when the honors will be complete.

FUNERALS OF LITTLE VICTIMS

(Continued from Page 1.) others almost no chance of recognition remains, though the acting coroner will keep this morgue open until 6 p. m., Friday. Then these will be prepared for burial.

It has been planned to hold one central funeral for all the identified victims today, but so many nationalities and religious beliefs were represented among the parents of the little victims that this was deemed inadvisable. Ministers and undertakers from Cleveland assisted those from the stricken city. While arrangements for the memorial service go on, the relief committee is hard at work preparing for relief of the stricken.

Thursday's investigation showed that many homes where white ribbons fluttered from the door knobs are destitute.

Many fathers have been out of work for months and the fire disaster has left them destitute. Coroner Burke will try today to draw from Anna Newbert the story she told to Deputy State Fire Marshal Brockman of seeing a man working excitedly at the Collinwood school building boiler just before the alarm of fire was given.

The coroner has also summoned the teachers whom he will examine at length to learn of conditions in the building during the panic.

"I have been unable to learn just where the teachers were and what they did after the alarm," said Dr. Burk. "I do not understand how so many of them were saved and so many children lost. I do not mean to suggest they did not do their duty, but I wish to learn definitely what was done."

Coroner Burke will devote some time to learning the condition of the rear exit where there were two sets of doors, one set swinging from a projection that obstructed the passageway, and where part of the passageway was converted into a cloak room.

Mrs. Anna Machinic, 4811 Charles street, went insane following the identification of her 9-year-old daughter Friday.

The mother walked up and down the aisle that separated the two lines of bodies, inspecting closely the marks of identification of each.

Suddenly her voice rose in a piercing scream and sobbing "My baby, my baby," she threw herself upon a charred and blackened body and rained kisses upon it.

Police men tried to take her away, but she fought them off. In her frenzy she tore her hair, all the while moaning "my baby, my baby," and kissing the remains of what had once been the proudest possession of her life—her little, happy, rosy-cheeked Rosena.

The combined efforts of six police men were required to drag her from the body. She was led away screaming and sobbing.

Two charred, unidentified bodies, a boy and a girl, wrapped together in one blanket, and lying on the floor of the city hall, mutely tell a story of heroism.

That the boy, who appears 12, gave his life in trying to save the girl, aged about 6, is evident from the fact that the girl is tightly clasped in the boy's arms. The two bodies were found in this attitude among the pile of dead that blocked the rear entrance to the school.

A tidy hand in which was clutched a lead pencil was dug out from the ruins of the still smoldering school building by one of the firemen and placed on a stretcher.

A woman standing a few feet away screamed and fainted. "It looks like Mary's pencil," she cried. The hand was soon followed by a corpse identified as Mary Marea, 8, 113 Charles street.

PREMONITION

Of Fire With Children Dying in Flames Seen by Dying Woman in Hagerstown.

Richmond, Ind., March 6.—Was the horrible fire at Collinwood, O., seen by Miss Emma Locke, of Hagerstown, by premonition? This question is puzzling that community. Miss Locke died Tuesday. While apparently asleep she cried out as if greatly excited that she saw many children meeting death in the flames that were consuming a large building. After becoming thoroughly awakened it was impossible to persuade the woman to believe that her dream was not a reality.

Wall Paper Talk NO. 5

About the Designs
In the matter of the design of wall paper the character of the room must be taken into consideration. If there are many pictures on the wall the paper should never be a bold striking design. A quiet paper without striking contrasts is better.

The size of a room can be effected to some extent by the wall paper. Vertical stripes are inclined to make a room higher, while horizontal lines make the room look lower and broader. Vertical lines are usually found in stripe patterns, while the horizontal lines are obtained by the use of borders, dados; chair-rails, plate-rails, and picture mouldings.

Wall paper designs are of many styles. Chief among them are florals, classic ornamentation and plain two-tone effects. The two-tone effects are good any where. Florals, if not too striking, are desirable for a sitting room or bedroom and even the parlor. The more classic designs are suitable for various rooms, but care must be taken that such designs are not used in rooms in which the furniture, etc., is in an unharmonious style.

Yours for correct wall covering.

BLOOD WILL TELL

Old Adage Proven by Newark People.

Many people have looked upon this idea with ridicule and skepticism, but show us a person in Newark who has pure rich, red blood, and we will show you a person who is healthy, strong and robust with clear skin and bright eyes. On the other hand, a person whose blood is poor, thin, badly nourished, sluggish or watery, is just as sure to be subject to nervousness and all kinds of human aches, pains and ills, and that tired and all-dragged-out feeling is inevitable. Then the impurities of the blood often break out in the form of eruptions.

To such persons we recommend Vinol, the modern cod liver preparation without oil, it will purify, vitalize and enrich the blood, and create health and strength in a surprisingly short time. This is because Vinol is a scientific preparation containing all the medicinal and body building elements of cod liver oil taken from fresh cods' livers with peptonate of iron, which is a powerful constituent for the blood, added.

We ask any person in Newark to try Vinol on our guarantee to return money if it fails to give satisfaction. Frank D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

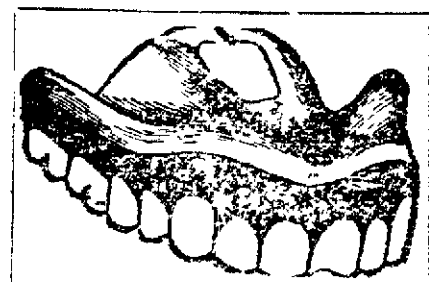

Repulsiveness

There's something decidedly repulsive about unsightly, decayed teeth. Especially as they are usually accompanied by bad breath, a bad stomach and an ugly disposition.

There's no excuse for a set of these ills. Have the teeth put in condition and the stomach resumes its normal condition, the breath its natural sweetness and the temper its wonted mildness. Come to SHAI & HILL and see about this.

THOUGHTS ON BUSINESS

BY
WALDO PONDRAY WARREN

SELECTING A MAN

PICKING out the right man for the place, it often measures the difference between success and failure in a business. More often it measures the difference between a moderate success and a phenomenal one.

Twenty or more years ago a carriage factory was started with the idea of doing things in an original way, and a man was chosen to carry out the idea. He had had no previous experience in that line, but he had the right idea and grasped the plan enthusiastically. The work began on a simple scale, so that the inexperienced man was able to feel his way. The business grew, until it attained great proportions. The same man is still at the head of it, not as the owner, but as the manager. He proved to be the right man for the place. It would be difficult to imagine how he might have made the business more successful in that particular line.

In thinking of this the thought occurred to me, suppose some other man had been chosen in the beginning. Suppose he had had wide experience, but a different idea. He might have made more rapid progress at the start, or he might have turned the whole business into other channels and have given it a different character. He might not have been able to grow up with it, or might have left it after the first year's trial. The present greatness of the business might have been unknown to-day if it hadn't been that the right man was chosen when the business was small.

GERMAN OFFICIALS
NOTIFIED FEDERAL AUTHORITIES OF ATTEMPT TO SELL WAR SECRETS.

Would Not Take Advantage of Esser's Offer—Part of Torpedoes He Would Sell Found in Loft.

New York, March 6.—The federal authorities in Brooklyn admitted today that the arrest of Heinrich Esser on account of an alleged attempt to sell United States war secrets to Germany, was directly due to the German authorities. A letter, it is said, notified the German consul in New York City, who in turn communicated with the police. Together with the tip came assurances that Germany would under no circumstances take advantage of such offers. Esser was today arraigned in police court. He is a machinist of ability and also works as a die maker. His brother is inspector of buildings in Aachen, Rhineland, Germany. Parts of the Blisse torpedo which he is accused of trying to sell to Germany, were found under a pile of lumber in a loft. The torpedo in question is known in naval circles as the Blisse Leavitt turbine and was selected in 1905 by the United States government to supersede the Whitehead torpedo. The projectile is a self-propelling submarine destroyer.

HUMAN RACE AFFLICTED WITH QUEER DISEASE

Cooper Says Internal Parasites Cause Much Suffering Everywhere.

The following remarkable statement was recently made by L. T. Cooper. It concerns the preparation which has been so widely discussed throughout the country during the past year, and has sold in such enormous quantities in leading cities:

"It is now a well-known fact that wherever I have introduced my New Discovery medicine, hundreds of people have brought internal parasites, or tapeworms, to me. In many cases these people did not know the nature of the parasite, and were consequently extremely nervous until I explained the matter to them. In some cities so many have had this experience that the public generally became alarmed. I take this opportunity of explaining what these creatures are, and what I have learned about them in the past. Tapeworms are much more common than would be supposed. I venture to say that ten per cent. of all chronic stomach trouble, or what is known as a 'rundown' condition, is caused by them. An individual may suffer for years with one of these great parasites and not be aware of it.

"Contrary to general belief, the appetite is not greatly increased—it only becomes irregular. There is a general feeling of faintness, however, and a gnawing sensation in the pit of the stomach.

"People afflicted with one of these parasites are nervous and depressed. Their chief sensation is one of languor, and they tire very easily. Lack of energy and ambition affect the body, and the mind becomes dull and sluggish. The memory becomes not so good, and the eyesight is generally poorer.

"The New Discovery, in freeing stomach and bowels of all impurities, seems to be fatal to these great worms, and almost immediately expels them from the system. I wish to assure anyone who has the experience just related with my preparation, that there is no cause for alarm in the matter, and that it will as a rule mean a speedy restoration to good health."

The Cooper medicines are a boon to stomach sufferers. We sell them. —City Drug Store.

Much soreness is abroad among Republicans all over the state at the machine boss rule that made a slate for the State convention and put through the nominations by completely crushing out all opposition. Nothing in Mark Hannah's palmist days approached the bossism that prevailed in Columbus under George Cox, Wal-

chief clerks in the State Treasurer's to fill these State offices and all other candidates were side-tracked so ruthlessly that it took serious reflection after it was all over to work out in their minds how it was done.

It would seem that the Proctor family has quite a monopoly on the politics of the State of Vermont. The father being United States Senator at power to appoint his father's suc-

cussed in the State how the son can fill the vacancy by appointing himself.
Even a Vermont Yankee is puzzled at such a problem.

SENSATION PROMISED

IN THE MECK INVESTIGATION
WHICH WILL BE RESUMED
MONDAY.

Young Lady Will Testify to Alleged Immoral Proposals by Member of State Board.
Columbus, March 6.—Summons were issued today for twelve more witnesses for the prosecution in the Meck school investigation. The real sensations of the hearing Monday will be the appearance of a young woman who charges that immoral proposals were made to her at the Southern Hotel in Columbus by a member of the State Board. Since then she has married. She lives in northwestern Ohio. The committee decided today to postpone the investigation of the charges of book trust activity until the last hearing.

REMAINS

OF LITTLE CATHERINE GLASS-MIER ARRIVE IN NEW-ARK TODAY.

FATHER'S AWFUL STORY

Of Seeing His Daughter in Building and Unable to Rescue Her—How He Identified Her.

Accompanied by the father, Henry Glassmier, her grandmother, Mrs.
Catherine Glassmier, and her uncle,
Harvey Glassmier, the remains of little Catherine Glassmier, who was burned to death in the Collinwood school fire, arrived at noon Friday over the Panhandle from Cleveland.

The train was met at the depot by Bowers & McCament, the undertakers, and the body taken to their undertaking establishment. The little white coffin was accompanied by wreaths of flowers, and special instructions came with the remains not to open the coffin for the little girl was burned almost to a crisp about the upper portions of her body.

Henry Glassmier, the bereaved
father, was seen by an Advocate reporter, and he told in detail the terrible story of the death of his daughter and the scores of other children.
He worked at night at the Lake Shore railroad shops in Collinwood, and had just gone to bed when his mother called him and told him the school house was on fire.

Hardly stopping to dress he rushed to the school, a short distance from his home, but when he arrived there the fire had gained such headway that he, like the other parents, were unable to do anything to rescue their children. In the terrible crash inside the school doors, he saw his daughter, Catherine, a beautiful child, who if she had lived until April 3, would have been twelve years old.

He struggled to reach her but was fought back by the terrible flames.
Time and again he fought like a mad man to reach his only child, but like the other parents he was compelled to wait until he could stand it no longer, and turned away in anguish, knowing his child must die in the fire trap.

After the bodies had been removed to the temporary morgues, he started his search for her remains. He made the complete rounds once, but failed to recognize his child in the hundreds of little corpses that were laid on the floor awaiting identification. Starting through again he finally recognized the body of his daughter by a new cap that was on one of her shoes.

The white cloth of identification was thrown over the body and an undertaker called. The body was then taken to the family home and held until it was shipped today to Newark.
From the undertaking parlors here it was taken to the home of Mrs. John Mohr, South Second street.
The funeral will be held Saturday at 1 o'clock from the German Lutheran church and the burial will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

SECURES NUMBER OF PENSIONS

Representative Ashbrook is "making good" in his efforts to serve his constituents in the halls of Congress.
The Senate last week passed his bill, which is now a law, increasing the pension of Benjamin Haynes, formerly of Utica, from $12 to $30 a month.
Mr. Haynes is blind, and a petition for an increase of his pension was signed by most of the Utica business men and many others, who did not expect it to be granted. Mr. Ash-brook has also secured the passage of special bills increasing the pension of Mrs. Harriet Hickey of Newark, a widow of 1812 from $12 to $24; and also a $12 pension for Mrs. Jane Bain who lives with her daughter, Mrs.
Harry Marple in Newark. Her son died from the effects of service in the Spanish-American war—Utica

When the platform committee

sion, tumultuous applause followed this resolution:

"Resolved, That the delegates by this convention chosen, be and are hereby instructed to vote as a unit for the nomination of William Jennings Bryan for the presidency."

It was "Bryan day" from the time Chairman H. H. Hanks made his first reference to Mr. Bryan as "the next president of the United States" up to adjournment late last night. Every mention of Mr. Bryan's name or principles was greeted with roars of applause.

The convention was entirely harmonious, the only semblance of a contest coming when delegates at large to the national convention were chosen. Felix J. Hale, a member of the legislature, was unexpectedly nominated. One of the other candidates withdrew, leaving five men for the four places. Mr. W. H. Thompson of Grand Island refused to withdraw, but was defeated by Mr. Hale by 76 votes.

Dr. P. L. Hall of Lincoln, was chosen national committeeman, to succeed Mayor James Dahlgren of Omaha, who announced that he did not care to serve longer.

The convention was one of the most largely attended in the history of the state. Delegates began to arrive two days ago, but late comers straggled in up to the very hour of the convention. More than 2000 pronounced party men were in the city.

WILL RIVAL THAW CASE

New York, March 6.—Before Justice O'Gorman in special term, Part
1. of the Supreme court, Mrs. Aurel Batonyi, formerly Mrs. Burke-Roche has filed a suit for absolute divorce against her gentleman coachman husband, indicating seven co-respondents
some by name, others by description.
At the same time, in the same court, Aurel Batonyi filed a counter suit, asking for an absolute divorce and specifying 11 co-respondents.
Chief among those named in Mr. Batonyi's list of co-respondents is Frank R. Sturgis, broker, banker and secretary of the Jockey Club.

Mrs. Batonyi was last seen in public on February 25. She attended a theater party given by Mrs. A. S.
Hewitt on that date. F. K. Sturgis and his wife were also of the party.

Mrs. Batonyi is the daughter of Frank Work, the millionaire horse fancier. Her life with her first husband, Burke-Roche, was not happy and she divorced him. He has never publicly recognized the legality of the divorce, however.

As Mrs. Burke-Roche she was a leader in the horsey social set until she married Aurel Batonyi, professional coach. Her father was wild, her friends in society made known their displeasure, and the Batonyis went to live on a little farm at Newport. This did not last long. Mrs.
Batonyi returned to New York and after a time went to live at the home of her father.

One of the co-respondents whom
Mr. Batonyi includes in his list of 11 defendants bears the name of Chapman—but the identity of the man was carefully concealed. A third, it was learned, is a well known architect, and the specifications bill of incriminating incidents which are alleged to have occurred in the dining-room of Mrs. Batonyi's chateau on her farm near Newport.

All of the acts which Mr. Batonyi sets forth are alleged to have been committed within the last 18 months.

In addition he makes the new and amazing statement that he was offered an income of $120,000 a year to drop all of his contemplated actions and remain silent.

It was learned also that Mr. Batonyi does not charge the alienation of his wife's affections so much to her father, the venerable Frank Work as he does to the malign influence of Mr. Sturgis. The latter is alleged by Mr. Batonyi to completely dominate all of Mrs. Batonyi's acts.

"Strange as it may seem," said one of Mrs. Batonyi's friends, "and despite the fact that she has brought this action for divorce against her husband, Mrs. Batonyi still loves him and would be perfectly willing to withdraw her action now and allow matters to rest if she were allowed to have her own way.

Batonyi was described as being absolutely determined to accept no compromise, but bent, on the contrary, on pushing all of his actions to the bitter end and making good his threat of several months ago to "expose Newport in a manner that will make the revelations of the Thaw trial tame by comparison."

What Would You Do

If three good physicians should pronounce your case hopeless. If they should decide that you could not live longer than six weeks. And if you should get well, after using only $12.00 worth of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine, what would you advise a friend in like condition to do?

"I have to thank you for saving my wife's life two years ago. We had continued with the doctor until the third doctor, like the two previous ones, said that nothing could be done for her; that she had better be taken home from the hospital to quietly wait her time, which would not be over 6 weeks at the most. I brought her home, and then I thought probably
Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine might help her, so I got a bottle of each and some Nerve and Liver Pills and commenced to give them to her.
We soon seen an improvement, and encouraged by this we continued giving the medicine. We gave her eleven bottles in all of the medicine. She takes it occasionally now if she feels the need. I am in the ministry, and have been for 44 years."

Communication in Reference to Fire
Drills—Lesson From the Recent Fire.

(Communicated.)

I was much interested in Supt. J.
D. Simkins' communication in Thursday's Advocate, relative to the Collin-wood school fire and read carefully the instructions that had been issued to the Newark teachers regarding the fire drills in the local schools.

Fire drills are to be encouraged,
but I am like the Pittsburgh fireman who says that comparatively little good can be done by marching the boys and girls quietly from the building and doing nothing else. The children should be taught to use the fire escapes and ropes. Mr. Simkins recommends that the children be taught to use the fire escapes, but I think he ought to put more stress on that part of his letter of instruction to the teachers.

I quite agree with all that Mr. Simkins has written save, in one, and to me a very important particular. He says:

“9. The object of the fire drills being to prevent panic in case of a fire it is desirable, occasionally, to cause a smoke by some means in the halls before giving the signal. No risk of fire should be run in causing this smoke.”

I read the foregoing paragraph twice. To my mind no greater mistake could be made than to pretend that a building filled with children was on fire. What causes these horrible calamities in crowded buildings
—the fire or the panic? What causes panic in a crowd? Fear. What do you think, would cause greater fear in the minds of a crowd of school children on the second or third floor of a building than the belief that the school house was on fire? Ninety per cent might believe it was not the real thing, but if ten out of 100 imagined the house was on fire, it is highly probable a panic would follow, with the usual result.

The children should be given frequent fire drills, taught to use the fire escapes and ropes and urged to be calm at every fire alarm, but keep the smoke out. It may do much harm and can do but little good.

MIDNIGHT ATTACK

MADE UPON TWO GLASS WORK-ERS WHO ROUT ASSAILANTS

Injunction Had Been Issued Restraining Strikers From Interfering With Workmen.

Utica, O., March 6.—Two workmen
from the Licking Glass works, named Bristle and Walters, were assaulted early this morning just after they had left the midnight shift, by two men whom they claim were Jake Yoltis and a person who is known as “Dago Dick.”

Bristle and Walters had just entered the yard of the home where they boarded when the former was struck by a club and knocked down, so he claims, by Yoltis. He drew his gun and began firing but being crazed by the blow was unable to hit his assailant. Walters was attacked by the other fellow but got the best of him and both took to their heels.

The mayor and justice of the peace are out of town and no warrants could be issued for the arrest of Yoltis and “Dago Dick”, but it is said that the glass company will appeal to the common pleas court as an injunction had been issued by Judge Seward restrain-ing the strikers from interfering with the workmen.

IN KEEPING MONEY ABOUT THE HOUSE

or upon your person there is always an element of risk. Loss by fire is a frequent occurrence; the newspapers contain daily reports of losses by theft.

Moreover, the cash in hand is in itself a constant temptation to spend—one so easily forgets how hard it was to earn and how much it would ultimately signify if added to the family savings.

It is a fact that if the average man could recover all, or even half of the money that he would admit of having spent foolishly, he would, in that sum alone, possess a modest fortune—to say nothing of the interest it would have earned had it been steadily deposited in this bank.

CURRENT COMMENT

The optimist may not do much good for himself, but he certainly does lots of good for others, for by his cheerfulness he puts the ginger in those who were on the verge of giving up.

A railroad superintendent gave this good advice to a newly hired brakeman. He said: "Do not let go of the car behind until you have a secure hold on the car ahead." This also applies to other things in this life's work. For instance the rule is a good one as to the situation one now holds. "Don't give up the situation that you now have until you have a sure thing on a better place."

Hook Bros. & Aston's dam across the mouth of the Licking at Zanesville has had a hole in it all winter, and as the high waters stop any repair work on the dam, the fish in the river in accord with their nature will work up stream, and fishing is likely to be good in the streams around Newark this season. All the older fishermen here have remarked it that whenever a hole got in that dam at Zanesville during the spring freshets that the fishing was good for some time afterward in the waters above. The game warden should see to it that when the dam is restored that the fish way is made larger or another one put in so that the fish will have no difficulty in coming to Newark, when nature calls.

STEREOPTICON LECTURES.

The first in the series of stereopticon lectures to be given on Friday evenings in Lent at Trinity church parish house, will occur this evening, beginning at 7.30 o'clock. The general subject of these lectures is "The Times and Life of the Christ." The subject this evening will show the religious conditions prevailing in the Roman Empire at the dawn of Christianity. It will in fact be a study of Roman and Greek mythology. It will show the religion of the people outside of the Chosen Race, the Jews, insofar as the dominating power of the world at that time is concerned. Admission to these lectures is free. An offering, however, will be taken and all present are requested to contribute. Well known hymns will be sung the words of which will be thrown on the screen.

SCHEDULE

Is Adopted for Ohio State League---Newark Gets Holiday Dates

WILL PLAY 150 GAMES

Directors are Satisfied
With Newark's
Allotment

Managers Will Be Fined for Taking Teams Off Field or Exceeding Salary Limit.

Officials of the six clubs of the Ohio State league met in Columbus, Thursday afternoon on the call of President Quinn and adopted a schedule of games, says the Ohio Sun. Schedules were submitted by the president and with only a few slight changes the one providing for 150 games with the season opening April 23 and closing September 13 was adopted.

The opening date will find Mansfield at Marion, Lancaster at Newark and Lima at Springfield.

Holiday dates are equitably distributed as follows:

Decoration Day—Marion at Lima, 2 games; Lancaster at Springfield, 2 games; Mansfield at Newark a. m.; Newark at Mansfield p. m.

Fourth of July—Lancaster at Lima; Newark at Springfield; Marion at Mansfield a. m.; Mansfield at Marion p. m.

Labor Day—Lima at Lancaster; Mansfield at Springfield; Marion at Newark.

Sunday dates are well distributed, three cities getting 11 Sundays and three getting 10. It was impossible to divide them equally, but all are satisfied.

The following dignitaries attended the meeting: Marion, O. Wollenweber, Ed. Steiger, Lima, J. J. McIntyre; Springfield, Ed. Ransick; Mansfield, Paul Sturgis; Newark, T. V. Rutledge; Lancaster, James A. Davidson, W. D. Nothacker, and L. Rasey.

The league adopted the Spaulding ball as the official playing ball.

The question of mileage is not one that will worry the league as the league is compact and mileage is short. But it was agreed that it should be equalized so no advantage will accrue and all will have to pay the same mileage up to 13 men.

President Quinn is determined to have no trouble like that which occurred at times in the old O. P. league about managers taking their teams off the field. A drastic rule against this practice was adopted and a fine of $100 is to be imposed on any manager or person in charge of a team who takes his men off the field before a game is concluded, no matter what the provocation. President Quinn says this rule will be rigidly enforced.

Another matter on which President Quinn is most insistent is the salary limit. He is in earnest about that feature in the interest of the league. A fine of $250 was provided for any club exceeding the salary limit. If the fine is not paid within a brief time forfeiture of franchise is attached as an additional penalty.

Every official reported the outlook most promising for the league. It is evident that this compact organization, with its clubs under good management and with competent men in charge all along the line, will be one of the most successful of all smaller minor league organizations.

BALL MEETING TONIGHT

The directors of the Newark Baseball club will meet tonight and close up a few small matters prior to the opening of the season. A ground keeper will be selected and the style of uniforms to be worn will also be chosen.

THE FAN MILL

The St. Louis Cardinals are to give another Indian a try out in big league ball. This man is John House and he comes from the Burlington, Iowa, Pathfinders, where he played great ball for several seasons.

It is reported that Manager Ransick of Springfield, has secured Catcher Red Mason, last year with Dayton. Munson did not receive his contract from Canton, where he was traded by March first and is now a free lance.

Manager Pete Porter of New Castle has great faith in Pitcher Jack Kennedy and is sure that he can keep him in condition. "He's due to repeat his performance of two years ago in Youngstown," Porter says. It will be interesting to see what Porter can do with the elongated twirler.

The unsigned contracts of Gus Fox, Chas. Luskey, Scotty Ingerton, Tommy Mylett, Sanford Burk and Billy King have been returned to the Marion baseball management. Each of the documents was accompanied by a letter stating that the salary offered is too low to expect a player to sign.

At the stockholders' meeting of the Lancaster Baseball club Tuesday evening it was decided to increase the capital stock from $5,000 to $10,000.

Walter East, manager of the Akron club for the past three years, will leave the city Friday for Little Rock, where he will play the coming season.

Manager Marty Hogan of the Zanesville team, has signed Raymond Saveland, a Chicago amateur picked up by the Cubs. He is said to be a wonder.

Hogan also signed Billy Smith, last season manager of the New Castle team. Pitcher Skillman and Outfielder Ross.

"Angel" Speas received his contract from Akron several days ago, and at once returned it as unsatisfactory in the matter of salary. He has not yet heard from the Akron manager.

"Kid" Gleason, who has seen 21 years' service in baseball, has signed his contract with Philadelphia.

The Erie press has declared war against its team if it has to play in the Interstate league. "The newspapers have agreed to give no space during the coming year," it is admitted to the O. P. league is "granted it." "Nice state of affairs, isn't it?"

The Columbus Senators will travel nearly 10,000 miles this season in visiting the various cities of the association. Mileage is quite an item in this league.

Milwaukee is said to be angling for Schallert, who played first for New Castle last season. Will an O. P. league discard become a star in the association?

"Max" Seanson, who is a twirler in Lancaster's pitching staff, has received his contract which is satisfactory, and it has been forwarded to the manager of the Lancaster team.

Charles F. Carpenter has been elected president of the Tristate league for the third time. He is one of the most successful minor league presidents in the country.

Walter Johnson, pitcher for Joe Cantillon's Washington club, has had one of the bones of his ear removed. There are some players in this as well as other circuits who could stand it to have a good deal of the bone taken out of their heads and still have enough left for practical purposes.

George Therre, a New York State leaguer who hit .284 last season, has signed a contract and will do the chief backstop work for the Lima Drummers. Eli Brockman, a college southpaw, and Ed. White of Hookingport, have signed as twirlers. Pat Welch of Dayton and Terre Haute, will play third.

NICE BOOST FOR AL.
Schweitzer, the new outfielder that McAleer picked up over in Ohio last fall, is said to be something of a ball player. McAleer hired him on the strength of his splendid showing with the Newark team.

Says Jim: "Thomas, the Youngstown pitcher, who goes with Columbus this year, tells me that Schweitzer is a good hitter, base runner and outfielder. A German ball player comes pretty near being as game as they make 'em. Hans Wagner, Whitey Alperman, Gus Dornier, Nick Altrock, Socks Seybold, Dutch Schaeffer and others are shining examples of this fact."—St. Louis Republic.

MEETING

Of O. P. Leaguers at Youngstown Did Not Land Eight Club Circuit.

The Ohio-Pennsylvania league is not formed, although a meeting for that purpose was held in Youngstown yesterday. In fact things are just as gloomy as ever. The claim is sent out that Erie and East Liverpool were admitted under assumed names since neither could secure their release from their respective leagues.

When the gong rings and the long, drowsy summer days come; when the fielder sits on his haunches and idly picks grass while he watches the man at the plate and is interested only in whether he will have to run for a fly ball or not. When the heat waves steam down and no one roasts the third sacker when he scoops up a handful of dirt and throws it at a flying bird. Then the chances are that the O. P. circuit will be playing six team ball, and will be sorry they broke from their western brothers.

For while the cities in their league are larger Sunday ball is practically unheard of. That is where the Ohio circuiters will get in their heavy work. Good league: good towns; small mileage. Sunday ball: fast teams; competent managers—there is the situation in a nutshell in the Ohio State league. It is hard to be a winner and everyone is anxious for the season to open.

Newark is lucky in getting the opening and two holiday dates this season, and the fans are well satisfied. So is the board of directors who were anxiously waiting the result of President Quinn's work. The rest of the schedule will be ready soon and will

BRITT WILL FIGHT McFARLAND.
San Francisco, March 6.—A dispatch from Los Angeles says Jimmy Britt has signed for a 24 round contest with Paddy McFarland, of Chicago, to take place in this city on the night of March 31. The weight will be 135 pounds at 3 o'clock.

BERRYHILL

Thinks All Old Players Will Sign Up This Week—Will Arrive Last of the Month.

All the old players will probably sign up this week, thinks Manager Berryhill, who wrote the sporting editor of The Advocate, Thursday. Manager Bob has a line on two or three pitchers that will greatly add to the twirling strength of the Molder pitching staff, and he is positive these men will don a Newark uniform this season.

Bob himself will be back here this month to receive the players as they arrive and to make a few arrangements for the opening the 23rd of April. In closing he says: "I am sure that we will have a team that can take care of itself this summer."

THREATENED BY HIGH WATER.

Piqua, March 6.—All the western end of the city is threatened by destruction from immense volumes of water in the hydraulics, Lake Echo and Swift run. A cloudburst swept the city last night. The streets were covered 18 inches deep with water. The hydraulic banks are weakened, and all fire hydrants have been opened and the water pumps set going to capacity to get rid of the water.

HUNGRY AS A BEAR AND CAN'T EAT

If, When Mealtime Comes, You Suffer From a Yes-No Kind of Hunger, You're a Dyspeptic.

How to Cure All Stomach Troubles.

A good many people get mad when you tell them they've got dyspepsia, but way down deep in their stomachs they know they've got it.

"I'd love to eat it, but I can't," is one kind of dyspepsia.

"I hate to think of it," is another kind. There are thousands of people today who hate their meals, and they love them at the same time. They haven't that fine empty-hungry everything-in-sight kind of feeling which goes with every good strong healthy stomach. That's because they have dyspepsia. And then there are others whose mouths don't water at meal time or at any other time. They sit at the table and go through the motions, only because it's time to eat. These people, too, are dyspeptics.

Every possible kind of stomach trouble can be cured by taking something which will just take right hold of all the food in your stomach and digest it alone without the help of the stomach, and let the stomach take a rest.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. They are composed of the best digestive known to science, and are absolutely safe. One ingredient alone of one of these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of food! These tablets do exactly the work that a good strong healthy stomach does.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets cure all cases of dyspepsia, indigestion, burning or irritation, loss of appetite, bloating, brash, belching, aversion to food, fermentation and gas on the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will make you feel "good" before and after each meal, and make your stomach strong and healthy again. They will make you happy.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package, free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold at every drug store for 50c a box.

PARTELLO STOCK CO.

A repertoire of scenic productions that promise to excel in merit any ever given at popular prices, will be presented by the Partello Stock company, headed by the clever little actress, Alice Kennedy, at the Auditorium, beginning on Monday night, March 9. The plays that are to be produced are new and appeal to all classes. Each and every play receives a complete dressing, both from a scenic and a characteristic standpoint. The opening bill is "The College Girl," a play written by Justin Adams and taken from one of American universities. Miss Kennedy portrays the leading character, "the girl," in a praiseworthy manner and her support is a competent one.

Splendid vaudeville with moving pictures and illustrated songs are given between the acts.

AMATEURS TONIGHT.

ORPHIUM.

Don't miss it. Something new, something good always at the popular vaudeville where novelties are introduced nightly. The amateur contest tonight promises to be one of the big ones so secure your seats early and enjoy a big double header at those ever popular prices, 10 and 20 cents. A bunch have promised to appear that will make the profession a bit jealous if their performance is as good as their rehearsals.

FIELD MINSTRELS REHEARSING.

Mr. Field's minstrels will soon be an attraction at the Orphium theater. The company is holding daily rehearsals and getting in good trim for next Friday night. The company is an "all star" aggregation of the genuine Afro-American variety, and is composed of ten of the best known local colored entertainers. A complete minstrel first part will be given and, it is said, some surprises will be sprung. The last appearance of this organization here was greeted with unusual bursts of applause and will doubtless be received again in the same enthusiastic manner.

FLORENCE M. KING'S PLAY.

Miss Florence M. King will present an evening of Old English comedy at Taylor Hall on Thursday evening, March 12. All her familiar force of amateurs will be in evidence, and also some new faces. The program will consist of three one-act sterling English comedies. "Old Crones," by S. Thorne Smith, "Is one of Reerbaum Tree's great successes; "Dearest Mamma" by Walter Gordon, a comedy that has held the stage for years, and "Lend Me Five Shillings," the famous John Maddison Morton farce, Mr. Gollightly being played by Warren, the great English comedian, and later by Joseph Jefferson, and his favorite role next to "Rip." It is a costume play—1830.

Among those taking part are Misses Kathryn Simonds, Edna Wright and Floy Faulkner; Messrs. Howard Jones, Harold Kemp, J. H. Horner, Edward King and Norton Beecher. Reserved seats, 25 cents, on sale at Y. M. C. A. Monday, March 9. Everybody invited.

Children Love Sweets

And the sweet they like best—of the sweets which are good for them—is pure Maple Sugar. That's why we boil our wheat, before flaking it, in the pure Vermont Syrup.

That flavor is most enticing.

We are making the best food for children, and we want them to like it. We want them to prefer the food that is best for them. And flavor does more than argument.

Maple-Flake is the best food for us all.

It is made of wheat—white Washington wheat—the premier food of the world.

It is prepared by a process requiring 96 hours, by which every atom is made digestible. That is the important fact. And it doesn't apply to any other wheat food.

Wheat is largely starch, and starch, to be digestible, must be made soluble.

The particles must be separated, so the digestive juices can get to them.

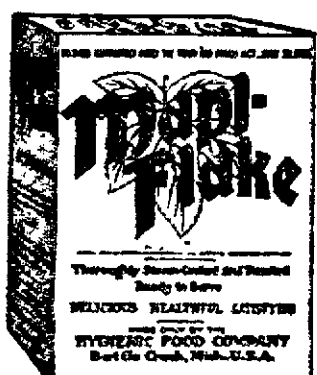

So we cook the wheat for six hours. Then thoroughly cure it. Then we flake each separate berry so thin that the full heat of our ovens gets to the center.

Then these flakes are toasted, for 30 minutes, in a heat of 400 degrees.

The result is a food that's all food. A food that will all digest.

There are other flaked foods—both corn and wheat—made by a process one-fourth as long as ours. They will cost you five cents less per package. But the difference is slight when you add the cream cost to both. And the difference in the process is 75 hours. Seventy-six hours spent to make the food more digestible. Every ounce of Maple-Flake means an ounce of nourishment.

"It's All Food"

"FRA DIAVOLO"

Charming Opera Will be Given by Local Talent in the Near Future. Rehearsals Under Way.

Auber's charming opera, "Fra Diavolo," will be given by a big company of local talent under the able direction of Messrs. E. Herve Reynolds and William H. Reynolds, in the near future. The exact date has not yet been made public, but it is known that the production will be given near the latter part of April. About 50 local people will take part and the effort is already promised a goodly list of patrons from the fact that it is to be given for the benefit of The King's Daughters.

Those who have ever heard "Fra Diavolo," and they are few who have not, are well aware of its many beautiful scenes and numbers, and also know that it is an opera of unusual difficulty for amateurs, but under the careful direction of Mr. Herve Reynolds, who has appeared in many professional productions of it, the opera will doubtless be given here with unusual satisfaction.

Rehearsals have been progressing nicely for some time past, characters have been assigned in places where they fit the best, and all things point toward the most successful of local undertakings in the line of opera.

It is learned that this production is to be a test of local talent and local patronage with the view of creating a permanent operatic society which will devote itself wholly to the production of high class, standard operatic works. It is especially hoped that the effort will meet with success on this account, as Newark has some excellent undeveloped talent.

THE BEAUTY DOCTOR.

Seats for the "Beauty Doctor" which will appear here March 20, for the benefit of the stage hands, can be secured after tomorrow from any of the stage hands. The prices are 25, 50 and 75 cents.

The meeting Friday afternoon did not convene until nearly 3 o'clock, owing to the inability of some of the officers and delegates to arrive earlier. The meeting was presided over by Miss Howe, Chief Pocahontas, of New Straitsville. Miss Minnie French of Crooksville, is the district chief, and Mrs. Rebecca G. Kinball is the district keeper of records.

ENDS LIFE AFTER GAITY.

Boxing Green, March 6—Guy Forney, aged 25, a farm hand at Frank Russell's farm, four miles east of Bowling Green, killed himself last night. He and Earl Howe were in this city and went to a nickel theater with girl friends. After that Forney bought a two ounce bottle of carbolic acid at a drug store before he went home.

CURES ECZEMA QUICKLY

New Drug Poslam, Now Obtainable in Small Quantities.

Since its discovery one year ago, the new drug, poslam, has successfully cured thousands of chronic cases of eczema and other distressing skin affections. Heretofore poslam has been dispensed solely for the benefit of eczema patients in large jars sufficient for a month's treatment. This was found to be an inconvenience to many thousands who use it for minor skin troubles, such as pimples, blackheads, herpes, acne, sealy scalp, complexion blemishes, itching feet, piles, etc., which require but a small quantity to cure. To overcome this and in response to urgent appeals, the dispensers of poslam have been obliged to adopt, in addition to the regular two-dollar package, a special fifty-cent size, which in future may be found on sale at Frank D. Hall's and other leading drug stores in Newark, or may be ordered direct from the Emergency Laboratories, No. 32 West 25th street, New York City. In all eczema cases poslam stops itching with first application, and proceeds to heal immediately; chronic cases being cured in two weeks. In less serious skin troubles, results are seen after an overnight application.

Samples for experimental purposes may still be had, free of charge, by writing to the laboratories for them.

HE IS COMING

The Renowned Quaker Health Teacher, Will Soon Visit Newark, Which Should be a Cause for Rejoicing.

Information has been received from a most reliable source, that arrangements are being completed for the reception of The Quaker Health Teacher, who is to visit this city very shortly.

At the time of going to press, further details were not obtainable. It can be announced however, that the newspapers of the different cities which he has visited, are filled with glowing reports of his wonderful success, and Newark people will be anxious to learn what good will result from his contemplated visit here.

His recent efforts at Akron, O., were rewarded with tremendous and glorious returns, and people there in general made the most flattering offers to have him remain longer, but as his time is limited, he was obliged to deny himself the pleasure of a more extended visit.

Gray, the Health Teacher, claims that Quaker Herb Extract expels Tapeworms surely, quickly and complete with head, without dieting, starving or any ill effects.

All persons affected with a Tape Worm may call on him Tuesday and obtain FREE a bottle of Quaker Herb Extract.

He will be at Erman & Son's 33 N. Third street Drug Store commencing Tuesday. All are invited to call on him. Further particulars in tomorrow's issue.

BIG MEETING SUNDAY

Sunday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. will be given another of the big Sunday afternoon programs. The speaker will be the popular Rev. James E. Shannon, who has been drawing such large crowds the last few Sundays. Mr. Shannon knows how to catch and hold his audience. He is a great fisher and popular speaker. And men come Sunday after Sunday and night after night to hear him because he has something to say they want to hear. Everybody who has heard him says "He is one of the most entertaining speakers of the winter." Next Sunday will be the last of his series of addresses.

WORTHY CHARITY

To Be Established Under Direction of King's Daughters and Should Receive Support of All.

To the Editor of the Advocate—My Dear Sir: I wish to call attention to a most worthy charity to be cared for under the direction of three of the Cirides of The King's Daughters of this city. It is to be inaugurated shortly and is worthy of the united support of all our citizens.

It is known under the title of District Nursing. A professional nurse is to be employed and placed at the disposal of all resident physicians, to be used by them in the homes of poor and needy people. The nurse enters the sick room of people who cannot afford to employ her and stays just long enough to see that the patient, the room and the house are left in a sanitary condition. The work is a most practical charity since she is under the immediate direction of the physicians. The need of such a work will be apparent at once to all right minded people. Its far reaching influence, the great amount of suffering alleviated, the joy and comfort brought to those in deep distress, its educational value are all so evident that it is hardly necessary to call attention to them.

A further consideration—selfish it is true—is that it is protective to everyone. In our public school system, children from all kinds of homes are thrown together. Our schools are exceedingly democratic and it is well for our country that this is so. But we know only too well that sickness can be communicated very easily by a child from a sick home to other children at school. It is possible that some homes in the city through lack of knowledge or sanitary arrangements in times of sickness, may become veritable plague spots, a menace to the health of many others. To send an expert there to put it in a healthful condition is surely of inestimable value to the entire community.

But the great consideration is that a nurse doing this work is engaged in the Master's service.

Very truly yours,

DIVORCE REFUSED

IN THE STONE CASE AND PLAIN-TIFF ORDERED TO PAY ALIMONY.

Amount of Money in County Treasury—Semi-Annual Report of Infirmary Directors.

The divorce and alimony case of Sulvanus Stone vs. Stella Stone was argued and decided in Probate court. It will be remembered that Stone sued his wife for divorce, alleging infidelity, and she, in her answer and cross petition asked for alimony on the same grounds. In the trial the plaintiff was represented by Judge J. D. Jones and Norpell & Norpell, and the defendant by B. G. Smythe. After hearing the arguments, the court decided the case, holding that the defenses mutually charged against each other up to the date of the separation on March 10, 1906, had been mutually condoned by each to that date. That at that time the plaintiff left his wife, and by his own testimony refused to live with her afterwards. From that date to the present the charges of infidelity made by the plaintiff against the defendant had only been sustained by the corroborative testimony of the acknowledged keeper of a notorious dive in Columbus, which charges the defendant denied. The court therefore refused the divorce to the plaintiff on the ground of insufficient evidence to sustain the charge of infidelity, and ordered

What's New in Men's Clothes

SPRING styles show a decided change in design from anything produced in the last two seasons. Bright effects in fabrics are preferred and you will find a great many people, especially the smartest dressers, wearing clothes cut with patch pockets, 'sporty' trousers and rather large lapels, little attractive features that add greatly to their distinctiveness.

In colors the tendency is strong toward Brown and Mode shades. Stripes are very much in evidence and strong in the running.

Little oddities in sleeves, cuffs and the placing of buttons are sanctioned by good taste and much in favor with those who like novelty.

Within the range of $15 to $25 you can obtain a degree of satisfaction in your clothes purchases.

DARING

Attempt Made to Rob Pan Handle Ticket Office—Screens Torn Out and Window Broken.

A daring attempt was made between 7:30 and 8 o'clock Thursday night to break into the ticket office of the Panhandle depot, but the would-be burglars were frightened away before they accomplished their purpose.

Night Ticket Agent Rhoads left the depot about 7:30 to get his supper and returned about 8 o'clock, in the meantime the thieves attempted to get in their work. They had torn away the heavy iron screen from the window and with some instrument shattered the plate glass.

Baggage Master John Rigger was at work in the baggage room, and wanting to speak to the ticket agent he started down the platform for the office. The men heard him coming and it was not until he reached the office that he noticed anything was wrong. Then he saw the glass shattered window lying on the platform.

He immediately notified the police and Captain Bell and Officer Burke responded. The platform was practically deserted at this time of the night as there was no rain due and the pouring rain kept the usual loungers away. Entrance was not gained to the room and if the robbers had entered they would have been defeated in their purpose for everything was locked up in the safe.

NEWARK PEOPLE ENJOY FLORIDA

Writing to a Newark friend from Daytona, Fla., Mr. William L. Prout says that Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Crane, Mrs. Prout and himself expect to be in Newark by March 11 or 12. Mr. Prout says in his letter:

We are enjoying Daytona very much. The weather is fine and we are taking in the trips on the Halifax and Tomoka rivers. The auto races begin March 3 with a 150-mile event

SMOOTH INDIVIDUAL

TALKS HIS WAY INTO THE GOOD GRACES OF NEWARKITES SHORT TIME AGO.

Leaves Between Two Days Leaving a Number of Unpaid Bills—Home in Michigan.

One affable, educated and wily individual, known locally as J. H. Turner and a clever swindler at once, is possibly one of the most wanted men Newark has had the misfortune to lose for a long time. The Newark Trust company, the Stasel hotel, the Southern States Mutual Life Insurance company, and several Newark individuals, are numbered among his victims.

Some three weeks ago a rather shabbily clad fellow, combining the rhetorical grandeur of a Boston teacher, with the innocent friendliness of a clergyman, dropped into the Stasel house and registered as J. H. Turner of Fremont, O. He hadn't any baggage and explained the absence of his grip, containing his "business" suit, by saying that he carelessly left it in the rack of a C. & C. train, coming into Mt. Vernon.

As has been learned, he truthfully said that he had come to Newark to act as the local representative of the Southern States Mutual Life Insurance company. Of course, having lost his baggage, the first thing he did was to arrange to get some clothing. He was receiving $10 per week from his company as an expense advance, but this was scarcely sufficient to keep him in the right sort of shape and purchase clothing too. So he presented a letter of credit, given him by R. F. Trumper of Cleveland, the state agent of the insurance company, to a well known Newark real estate man, introduced himself and made good. He then kindly requested the real estate man to accompany him to a clothing store in order that he might get credit "for a few days" on a suit of clothes. This the real estate man did after some hesitation. Since, he has had the remaining $11.00 to the clothing house. Turner had paid $4 and secured the goods on his employer's letter of credit, or introduction.

A number of acquaintances were made here and in almost each instance the man was successful in making touches, in each case a small amount.

A few days before his departure he met a well known young man of the city at the hotel. The recognition of faces was evidently mutual, but the young man in question doesn't seem to remember where he had met Turner before. Anyhow, the man showed his friendship for an old time acquaintance, and on the day of his departure, met the young party on the street. He informed him that he had a draft on his state agent at Cleveland and would like to get it cashed as it would furnish him with some much needed spending money that he couldn't do business without. Now, all he wished was for the young man to accompany him to the Newark Trust company and introduce him.

That was easily done. After a few careful questions, the man's draft for $12.00, was cashed. He left shortly afterward "for Granville, where he expected to remain for a few days, transacting some business."

At the Stasel house, he left orders to hold his room until the following evening, when he would return. The room was kept for two days, and when he did not put in an appearance, the room was let to another guest. Turner had left his old suit of clothes and a note, given him on the one insurance policy he had written while here. On receiving notice of some of his crooked work at Fremont, O., at which place his wife was said to be visiting, the state agent of the company, R. F. Trumper, came from Cleveland and followed the doings of Turner, insofar as his (Trumper's) letter of introduction had been responsible for losses. In each of these instances the people were reimbursed in full by the Cleveland man. But his letter of credit didn't go to the Stasel house, nor with the young man who was duped together with the Newark Trust company.

Mr. Trumper gave the substance of his knowledge of Turner to local people which was to the effect that he has been crooked for some time and evidently well up in the art of swindling—for an art it certainly was with him.

Turner is said to come from a family of high standing in Muskegon, Mich., where his father and brothers are prominent in business. His brother, Jerome Turner, is a prominent attorney-at-law in Muskegon, and "J. P." himself, is said to have been educated in law, which is doubtless true, as his intelligent and exceedingly persuasive conversation would lead to believe.

Mr. Trumper stated that he met Turner in Cleveland, where he was engaged in some kind of subscription work, and his manner was that of a gentleman without question. So, the insurance man was duped in the same way, when Turner solicited a position. He was sent to work this part of the state as a sort of district agent. Because of his lack of funds, Mr. Trumper personally advanced him $15 to start him, and later agreed to send him $10 per week for his living expenses until he could establish himself here. There is no question but what he established himself in Newark, and so firmly has he fixed himself here that if he should get within reach it is altogether probable that he would live here for a while at the expense of the county.

The local police department has not been informed of his doings. The impression is, however, that he went to Detroit, and that being the case, he is probably wise enough on points of law to know that he cannot be extradited on the charge of breach of trust, but if caught within the state, can be prosecuted.

REPORT SHOWS NICE INCREASE

The report of the Newark postoffice for the month ending February 29, is as follows:

From sale of stamps, $3,159.25; stamped envelopes, $529.99; post cards, $271.50; stamp books, $181.16; third class matter mailed without stamps affixed, $80; total receipts $4,221.90. Increase over last February, $194.73.

WHEN A MAN WOULD LIKE TO ROAM.

When a man sees Spring approaching there's a drawback to the joy, which the season used to bring him when he was just a boy. He'd give a good deal now to know that he might steal away, and while 'twas cleaning time at home, over country fields to stray. But if he'll only stop and read he'll find here good advice, 'tis this: just buy some Spartan Stain, it's worth four times the price. And when your wife has tried it and knows what it will do, she'll find that cleaning's half the work and will rejoice with you. Spartan Stain on the floors and woodwork makes cleaning so much easier and besides the rooms always look so bright and cheerful. Manufactured by The Marfetta Paint & Color Co., Marietta, O. Sold by the Newark Paint Store, 31 West Church street.

Brer Rabbit

UNCLE REMUS STORIES
BRER RABBIT'S FROLIC

By JOEL CHANDLER HARRIS
ILLUSTRATED BY J. A. CONDE

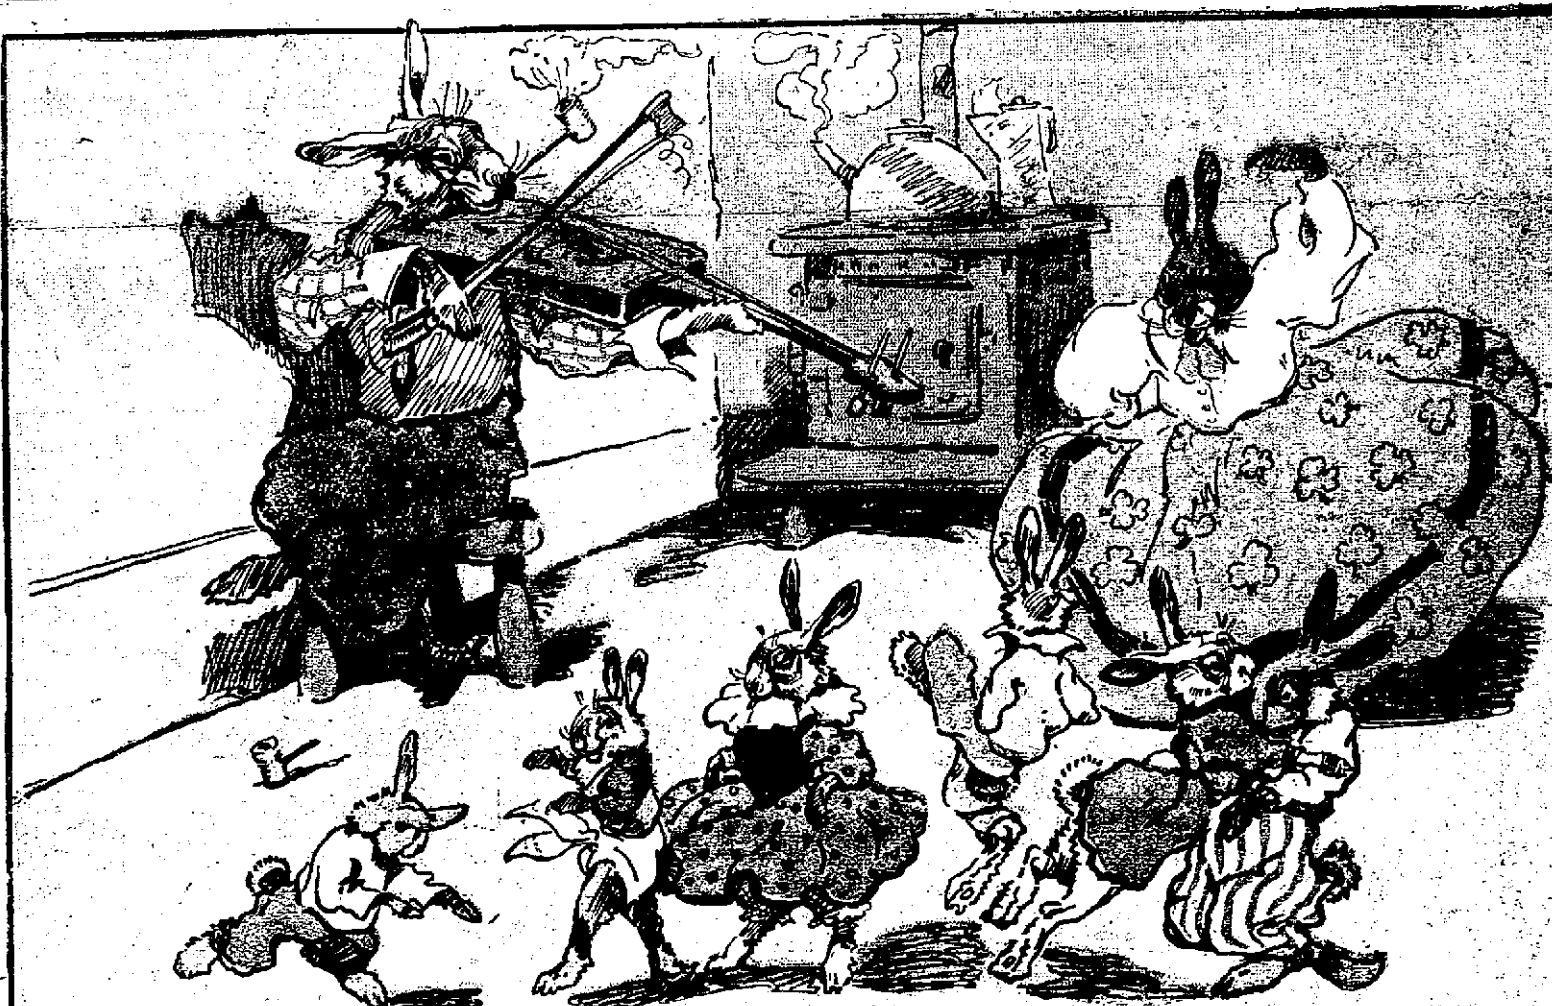

THE little f— when he next saw Uncle Remus, after hearing how the animals went to the barbecue, wanted to know what happened to them: he was anxious to learn if any of them were hurt by the dogs that had been chasing Brother Rabbit. The old darkey closed his eyes and chuckled. "You sho is axin' sump'n now, honey. Und' his hat, ef he had any, Brer Rabbit had a mighty quick thinkin' apple-ratus, an' mos' inginaer'ly, all de time, de pranks he played on de yuther creeturs pestered um bofe ways—a-comin' an' a-gwine. De dogs done mighty well, 'long ez dey had dealin's wid de small fry, like Brer Fox, an' Brer Coon, an' Brer Wolf, but when dey run ag'in' ol' Brer B'ar, dey sho struck a snag. De mos' servigrous wuz de idential one dat got de wust hurted. He got too close ter Brer B'ar, an' when he look at hisse'f in runnin' water, he tuck notice dat he wuz split wide open fum flank ter dewlap.

"Atter de fucus wuz over, de creeturs hobbled off home de best dey could, an' laid 'roun' in sun an' shade fer ter let der cuts an' gashes git good an' well. When dey got so dey could segashuate, an' pay der party calls, dey 'gree fer ter insemble some'rs, an' hit on some plan fer ter outdo Brer Rabbit. Well, dey had der insemble, an' dey 'jower'd an' 'jower'd des like yo' pa do when he aint feelin' right well; but, bimeby, dey 'greed 'pon a plan dat look like it mought work. Dey 'gree fer ter make out dat dey gwine ter have a dance. Dey know'd dat ol' Brer Rabbit wuz allers keen fer dat, an' dey say dey'll gi' him a invite, an' when he got dar, dey'd ax 'im fer ter play de fiddle, an' ef he 'fuse, dey'll close in on 'im an' make way wid 'im.

"So far, so good! But all de time dey wuz jowefin' an' confabbin', ol' Brer Rabbit wuz settin' in a shady place in de grass, a-hearin' evey word dey say. When de time come, he crope out, he did, an' run 'roun', an' de first news dey know'd, here he come down de big road—bookity-bookity—same ez a hoss dat's broke thoo de pasture fence. He say, sence, 'Why, hello, frien'! an' howdy, too, kaze I aint seed you-all sence de last time! What de name er goodness is you been dese odd-come-shorts? an' how did you far' at de bobbycue? Ef my two eyeballs aint gone an' got crooked, dar's ol' Brer B'ar, him er de short tail an' sharp tush—de vey one I'm a-huntin' fer! An' dar's Brer Coon! I sho is in big luck. Dar's gwineter be a big frolic at Miss Meadows', an' her an' de gals want Brer B'ar fer ter show um de roas'n'-y'ar shuffle; an' dey put Brer Coon down fer de jig dey galls rack-back-Davy.

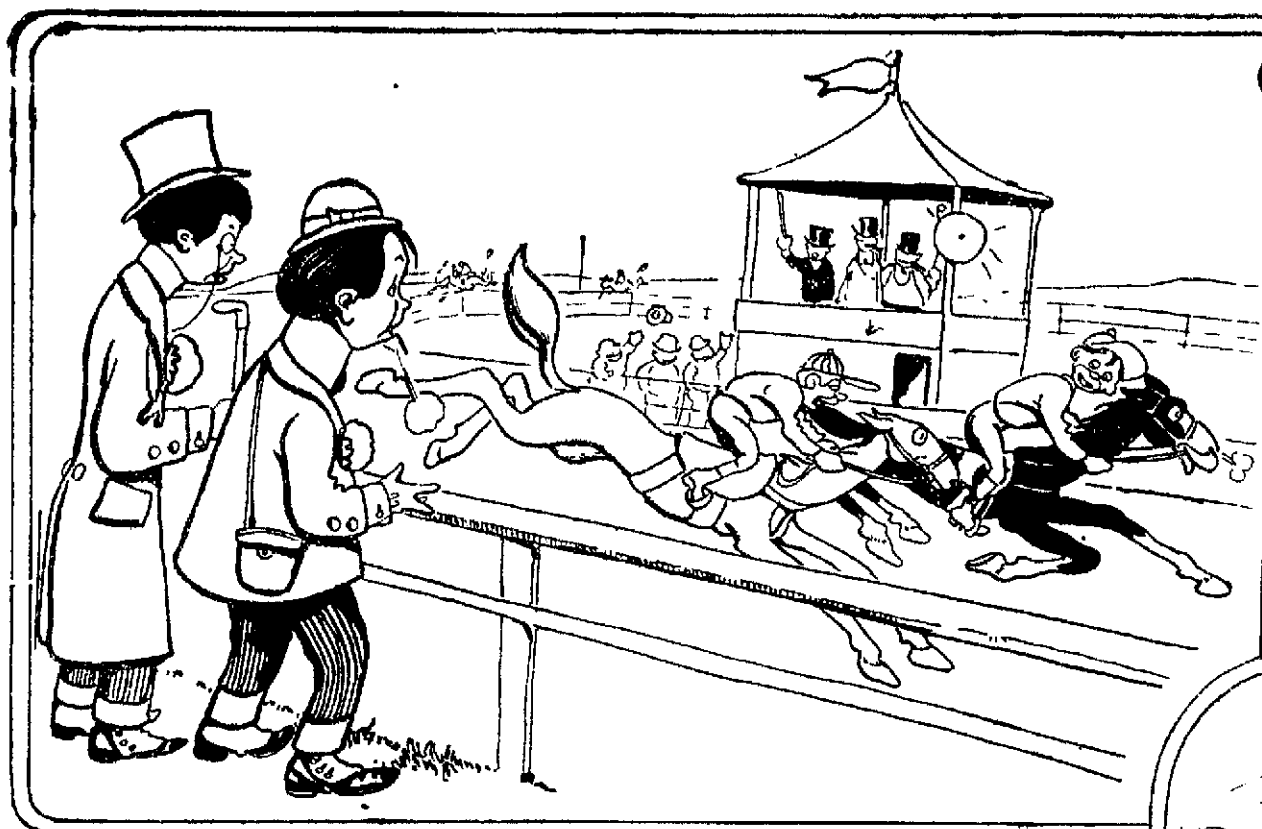

"I'm ter play de fiddle—sump'n I aint done sence my oldest gal had de mumps an' de measles, bofe de same day an' hour! Well, dis mornin' I tuck down de fiddle fum whar she wuz a-hangin' at, an' draw'd de bow back—erds an' forerds a time er two, an' den I shot my eyes an' hit some er de ol'-time chunes, an' when I come ter myse'f, dar wuz my whole blessed fambly skippin' an' sasshayin' 'roun' de room, spite er de fack dat brekkus wuz ter be cooked!

"Wid dat, Brer Rabbit bow'd, he did, an' went back down de road like de dogs wuz attar 'im."

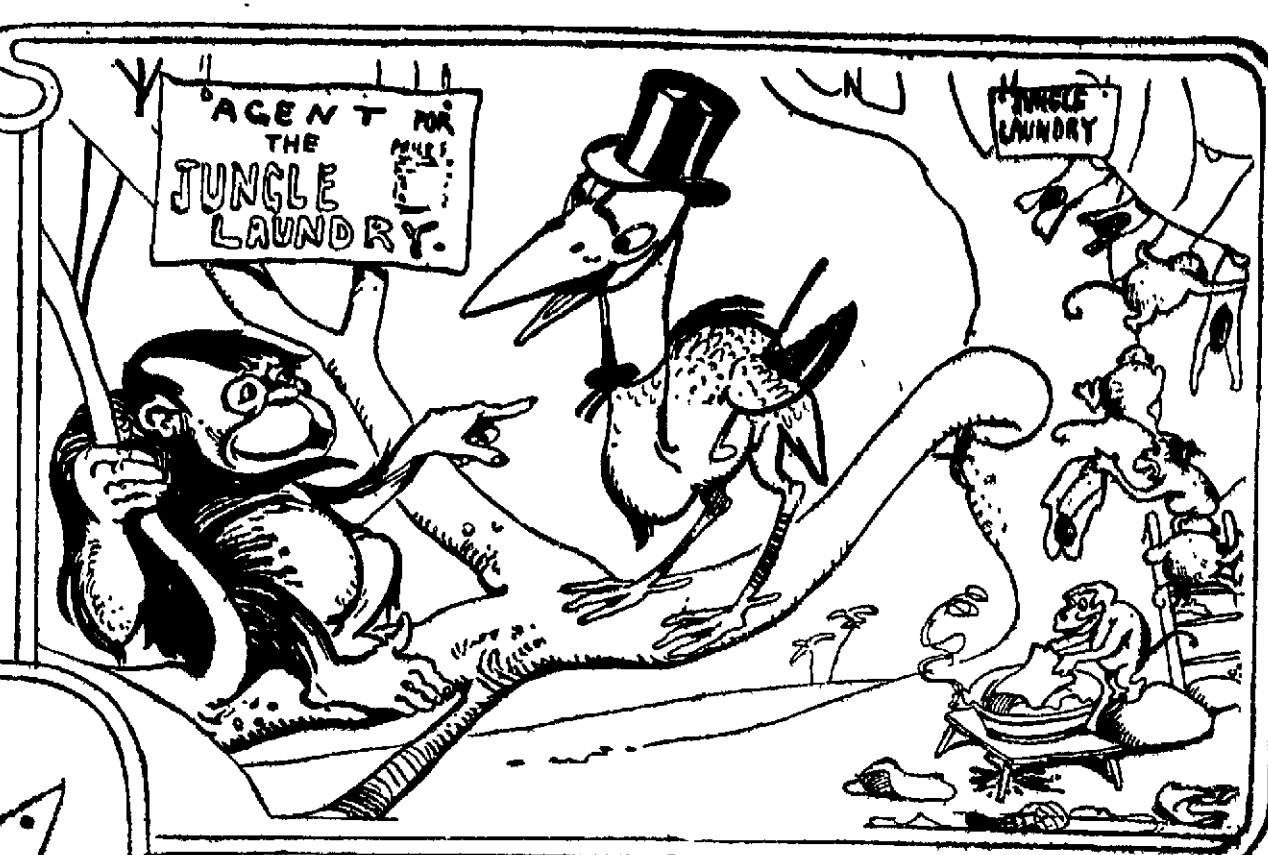

"But what happened then?" the little boy asked. "Nothin' 't all," replied Uncle Remus, taking up the chuckle where he had left off. "De creeturs aint had no dance, an' when dey went ter Miss Meadows', she put her head out de winder, an' say ef dey don't go off fum dar she'll have de law on um!"

BERTIE: "Oh, Percy! We've lost all our money!"
 PERCY: "Now, I understand what President Roosevelt meant by 'Race Suicide.'"

OLD LADY: "Your dolly looks like you."
 LITTLE GIRL: "Yes'm, ma bought me the very prettiest one she could find."

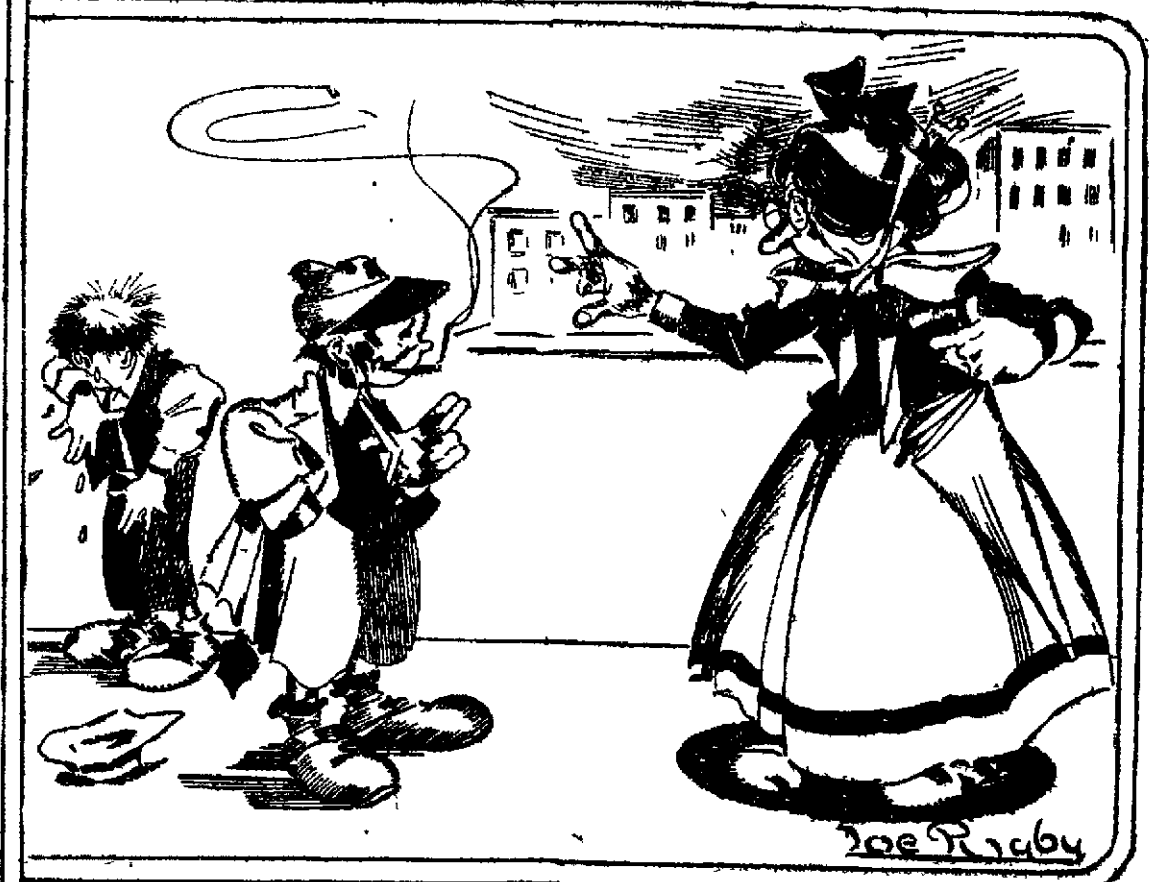

THE DODO: "Say, you didn't return all my collars."
 THE MONK: "You will have to complain to the main office, this is only a branch."

LITTLE GIRL: "Ma sent me to ask you for a soap picture."
 GROCER: "But your mother doesn't buy her groceries here."
 LITTLE GIRL: "I know that, but we often borrow your push-cart."

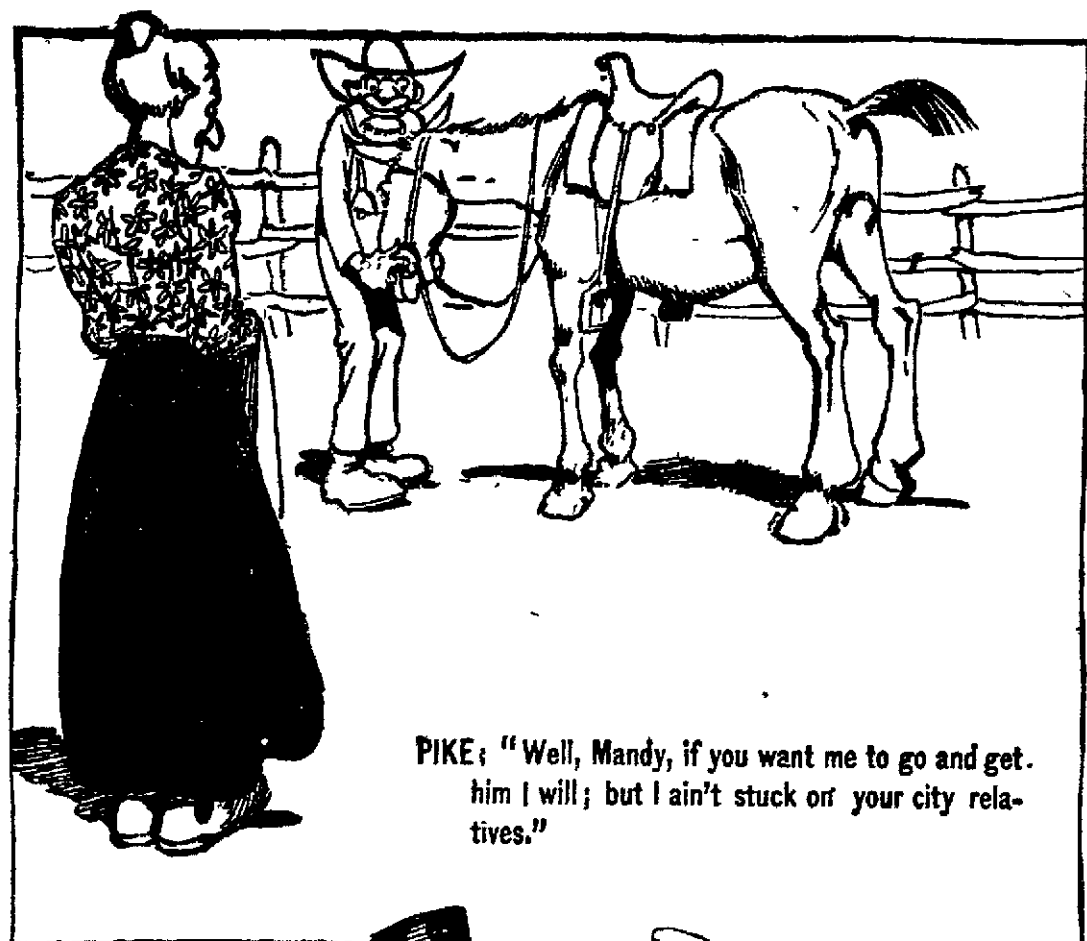

"You told Alkalie Ike that I had a drop too much."
 "Well, pard, you've got a drop too much for me now, an' that's what I meant when I said it before."

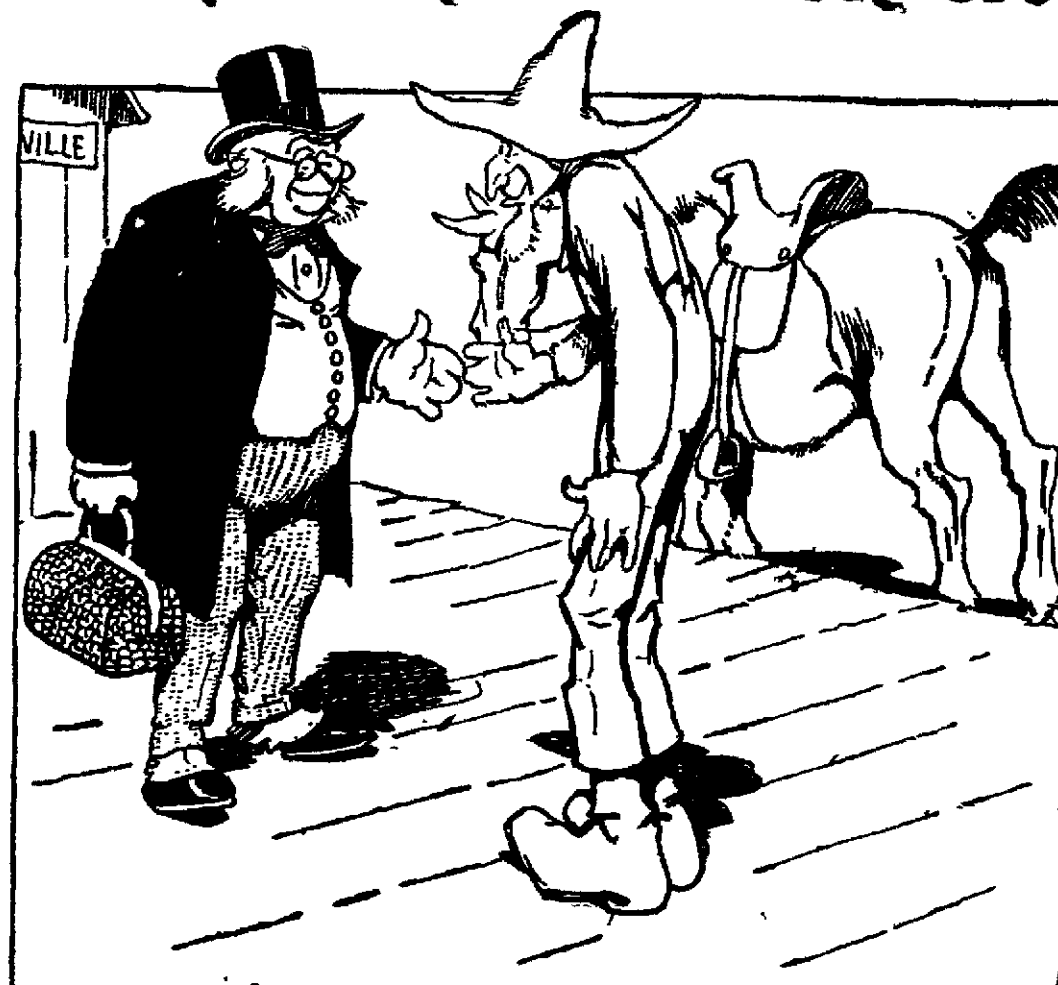

MRS. DOCILE: "I feel badly, little boy, to see you indulging in a fight."
 MICKY COLER: "I bet yer don't feel half as bad as de kid I gave de thumpin' to."

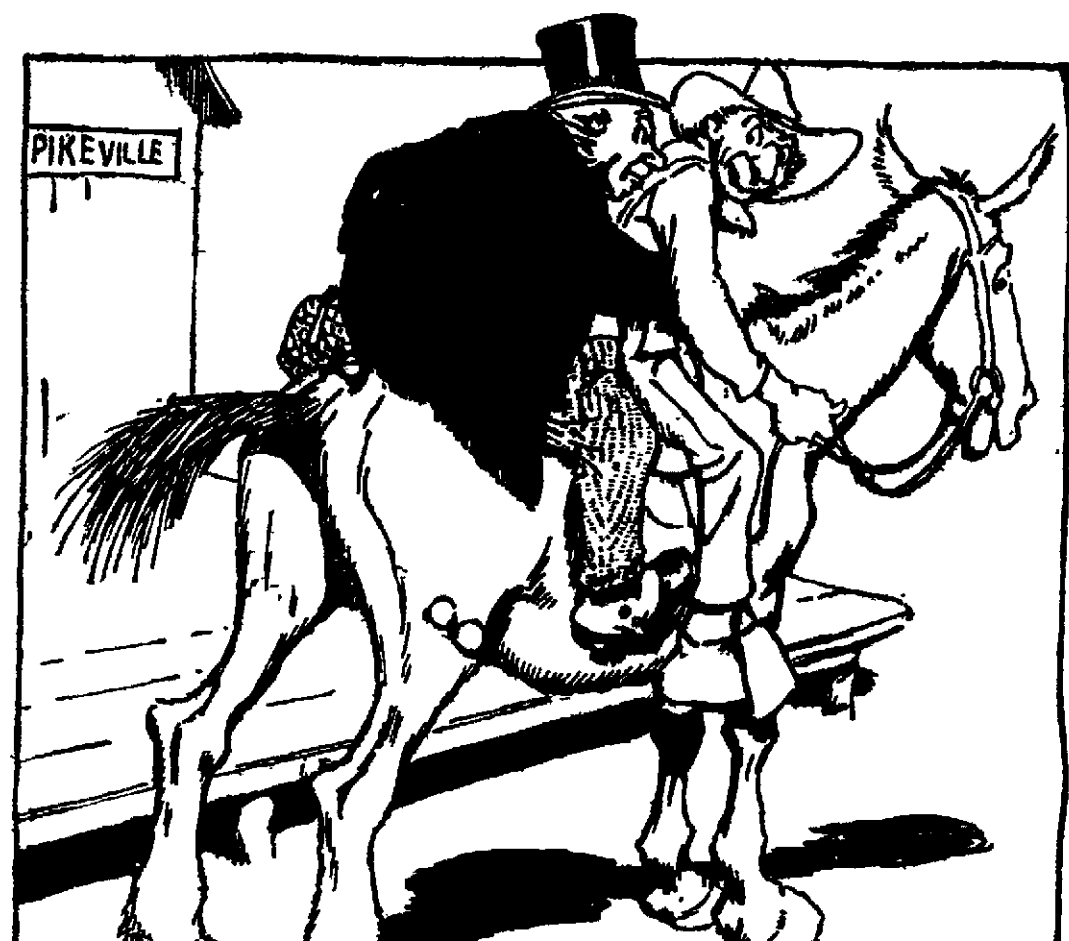

UNCLE PIKE HASN'T ANY USE FOR CITY RELATIVES

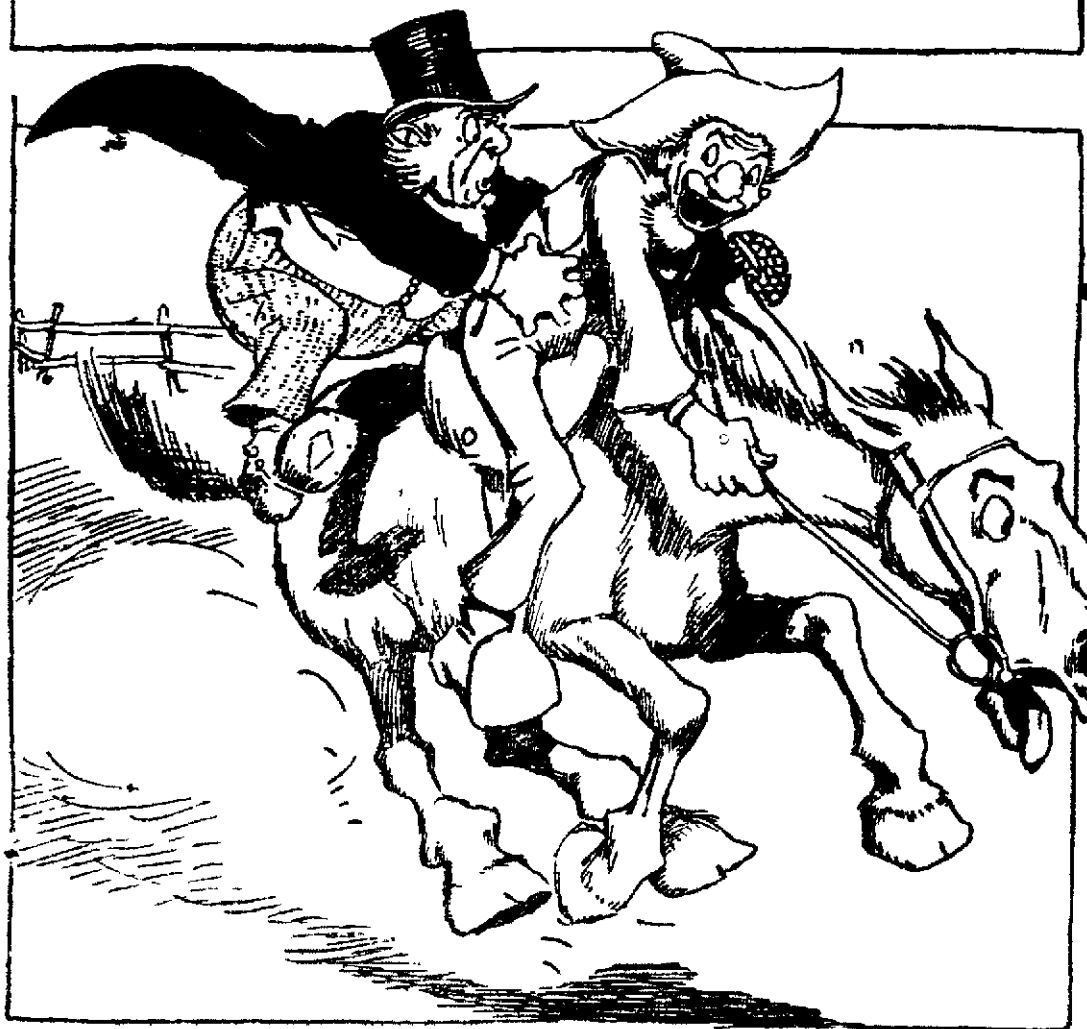

PIKE: "Well, Mandy, if you want me to go and get him I will; but I ain't stuck on your city relatives."

"Mandy sent me to fetch you, so come along."

"You'll enjoy riding Nancy here better."

"She don't look as though she had much speed, but can you beat this?"

"I forgot, you ain't used to country ways; you ought to have ducked when I did."

"Well, Mandy, I guess your city relative ain't stuck much on riding with Uncle Pike, 'cause he didn't ask me to take him back."

NEW FASHIONS FOR LITTLE GIRLS

6132. DOTTED challis was used for making the pretty little dress (6132), but linen, pique, chambray, gingham and mohair are all serviceable and appropriate. Three deep tucks are laid in the upper part at the shoulders, the fullness being gathered at the waistline. The full straight skirt is finished by a deep hem and gathered and attached to the waist. Velvet was used for trimming the waist and skirt, and the bands of the short puff sleeve. The 8-year size will require 2½ yards of 36 inch material.

Girls' Frocks. No. 6132. Sizes for 6, 7, 8, 9, 10 and 12 years.

A becoming little frock is shown in 6134. While it is exceedingly attractive, it is yet very simple. Blue chambray trimmed with white braid was chosen for the development, although linen, challis, China silk and cashmere are all suggested. The blouse waist is gracefully tucked and finished by a round trimming band made of the braid, which is also used for the Mandarin sleeve bands. The full skirt is trimmed to correspond. For a child of 10 years 4 yards of 36 inch material will be required.

Girls' Dress. No. 6134. Sizes for 6, 8, 10 and 12 years.

The frock (5994) is built upon the simplest lines, but is possessed of a rare degree of smartness and style. A novel feature is the broad sailor collar that extends over the shoulders, in a way very becoming to children. It extends down the front to the lower edge of the dress. A shield topped by the high standing collar is included in the pattern. A belt of leather encircles the waist, or one of the material will do as well. Cashmere, serge, challis, albatross, gingham and pique are all suggested for the making. For a child of 8 years 3 yards of 44 inch material will be needed.

Girls' Dress. No. 5994. Sizes for 4, 6, 8 and 10 years.

The little over-dress (6112) may be worn over any style guimpe or blouse. The waist is cut with front, back and Mandarin sleeve-cap all in one piece. The front is in panel effect, corresponding to the skirt, which is laid in groups of tucks in front and back. The mode is capable of development in both the washable and the woolen fabrics, and gives opportunities for many fanciful effects in the trimming. It would make up stylishly in white pique with white braid and pearl buttons. For a girl of 8 years 2½ yards of 36 inch material will be required.

Girls' Over-Dress. No. 6112. Sizes for 8, 10, 12 and 14 years.

Patterns will be sent to any address on receipt of ten cents each, by Marjorie Dane, 43 West Thirty-fourth street, New York City.

To avoid delay, do not fail to state size of pattern desired, and be sure to write name and address plainly.

Forecasting Frocks and Frills

WITH summer still several months away, fashions in hot weather modes are practically settled. To the average feminine mind, backed by a slender purse, the saddest feature of the fashion outlook is the very radical change in fabrics. Hardly anything that was left in good order from last summer's wardrobe can be utilized this year.

While stripes remain in vogue for all two-piece suits, with tailored finish, the stripes show a decided change. Two-tone stripes have been in vogue. Now the three-tone stripes is the only effect seen in smart shops. The tailored suits we are laying away showed black and blue, green and brown, green and blue, etc. The new stripes come in three or four pairs. For instance, in a light effect you will find oyster-white, black, grey and rather deep blue, combined. Next comes a biscuit colored background with half-inch stripes of teal-green and a soft, reddish brown. A striking black and white stripe shows a hair line of red on either side of the black, and so it goes; the three-tone effect in everything.

The new silks are all novelties, save when they appear in waists to match tailored suits. The new black and whites have a silvery sheen, and are made up with a touch of crimson. A stunning model showed a Madame Butterfly design with kimono sleeves and two-button semi-fitting coat with vest, done in black and white silk striped. The vest was of black taffetas, laid in fine pleats and finished with a very fine piping of the scarlet silk. The skirt was quite plain, stitched with black silk.

The delicately tinted silks for dressy costumes almost invariably show self-tone stripes. That is on a taffeta silk in one of the new greenish-blue hues showed a satin stripe nearly an inch wide, and, overlying both the satin and taffetas stripes, huge oblongs of moiré; yet all three, moiré, satin and taffetas, are in precisely the same tint of blue, the difference lying in weave and sheen.

The new foulards have a decided satin sheen, with a supple weave, and are priced at $1.50 per yard. For all these foulards come laces dyed in exactly the correct shade, most of them run with a thread of gold or silver also the Japanese embroidered laces on silk net.

A natural colored pongee with a border on either edge of Persian design in faded colorings. It is said this will be much used for tunic effects, paniers, jackets, vests and fancy blouses, but it is not an economical silk by any means. Far more practical are the wide silks with single borders, which are used around the foot of skirts, coats, etc.

Unquestionably the border is the thing, and all the new goods show this effect. The new gauzes and chiffons have a border effect in various shades. For instance, a silk gauze starts at the foot of the skirt in a rich shade of natter blue, grows lighter and lighter in shadowy stripes until it reaches the waist line a bluish-white.

A novelty in cloth for the tall, slender woman shows the popular basket weave, for all the world like a wall paper pattern. Running up and down are three-inch stripes in fine black and white checks, and, interlacing crosswise or horizontally, runs another band effect, showing heavy black with tiny blocks of white scattered over it. At the distance this looks like bands of ribbons interlacing, and it is said that the fabric will be used for circular skirts to be worn with plain black jackets. It is an impossible design for stout or short women.

Very few plain dotted Swisses are seen. Most of them are in checked designs, or stripes with tiny flowers or signs, or stripes with floral or conventional figures embroidered where the cross-bars meet. The new embroideries are extremely broad and open in design. This will necessitate wearing under summer frocks, either exquisite lingerie skirts or silk slips.

The new lace and embroidered robes show the border influence, but are finished around the bottom with Vandyke points, rather than plain hemstitched or scalloped edges.

The smartest neckwear, either collar and cuff sets or ties and jabots, is done in fine linen with English eyelet embroidery, edged with fine Irish crochet. With tailored shirt waists, will be worn, by extremists, delicately tinted linen collars and cuffs, with ties to match, all embroidered in self-tone.

The first showings of small spring hats for tailored suits display the upturned brim. Several tri-cornered shapes are offered with trimmings of stiff ribbons, quills, wings, etc. The first shade hats are English in design and extremely homely. They have low, round crowns, rather broad drooping brims of uniform width all the way round, and they are trimmed with flat scarfs with fringed ends and flat coque or novelty feathers, falling down the back or over the left side. These hats are far more trying to the average face than the mushroom or mandarin hats of the past winter.

Etiquette for the Dinner Guest

THE first duty of the man or woman who has received an invitation to dine at the house of a friend is to send either an acceptance or regret to that invitation. There is no function where an even number of guests is more essential to its success than a dinner. A dinner engagement once made can be broken only for some vital reason, such as sickness, death in the family, etc. I have known a girl to accept an invitation of this character, then, a day or two before the dinner, decide that her blue gown was too soiled, and her pink one was out of date, and finally write a hasty note to her hostess, saying that she finds she is unable to be present. This is simply inexcusable.

Guests should arrive at the house of their hostess about ten minutes before the hour set. It is almost as grave a mistake to arrive thirty minutes too soon as ten minutes too late. As a rule, no room is set aside for the men, as they come in evening dress and simply remove their coats and hats in the hall, but a dressing room is always ready for the women.

When the dinner is announced the hostess asks the men to escort the ladies to the dining room. She designates to each man the woman whom he is to take in. He then offers his left arm to that woman, and finds their seats, which will be indicated by place cards. The gentleman then draws out the chair, seats his companion, and sends himself. It is, of course, necessary that the hostess be seated first. Once in their chairs, the ladies remove their gloves.

All seated, the guests take their napkins and shake them out, laying them across their laps. The first course is generally on the table when the guests enter the dining room. The hostess gives the signal to eat by doing so herself. Let me say here that it is the height of bad manners to refuse a course. If you do not like soup, that is no reason why you should refuse to have a plate of it set before you. You need not indulge in it to any extent, but make a pretense of it. Take a little of everything that is set before you and make a semblance of enjoying it.

When dinner has been served, it is the custom for the ladies to adjourn to the parlor and have their coffee, leaving the men of the party to enjoy a stag smoke. Therefore, at the end of the dinner, the hostess rises. The gentlemen rise and pull out the chairs for the ladies, who pass into the drawing room. The men then sit at ease, resume their talk, and the ladies in the drawing room chat as they drink their coffee, the men joining them when they have finished their cigars.

There is no set time for remaining after dinner. Sometimes there is a little music, then again the guests simply sit about, talking to one another. However, the lady makes the first motion to go when she has an escort with her. A single man who came alone to a dinner should ask his name before he leaves if he can escort any young lady home. Always take leave of both the hostess and the host.

Men should wear full dress suits at a formal dinner; by that I mean swallowtail. The Tuxedo coat is for informal occasions, when ladies are not present. A black tie, however, is permissible at a dinner in place of the usual white linen one. At very elaborate dinners women are expected to wear décolleté. At dinners given with less formality women wear dresses cut slightly at the neck with elbow sleeves.

Guests at a dinner never fold up their napkins when dinner is finished. Since the napkin will not be used again, it is sufficient to place it on the table unfolded as you rise from the table.

The knife is held in the right hand, the fork in the left when cutting. When the knife is not being used it is laid at one side of the plate and the fork then used by the right hand to convey food to the mouth. Never turn the concave side of the fork up, using it as a sort of shovel. At the conclusion of each course, both knife and fork should be placed side by side, resting wholly on the plate. Spoons are used very little at a dinner, for soup and coffee only. Vegetables must be eaten with a fork, not a spoon. Salads must be cut with the fork only, without the aid of a knife. In using a spoon, eat from the side, not the tip of it, and in taking soup, dip the spoon from you, not towards you. Remember that you are expected to talk at a dinner, as well as to eat; hence take small mouthfuls, and eat slowly.

Sweetbread Entrees

Sweetbread Cutlets: One pair of sweetbreads, chopped fine with a silver knife. Boil a teaspoon of sweet milk. Rub together a tablespoon of butter and two of flour, add to the milk, let it boil until thick, then beat in the yolks of two eggs and let it cool. Add the chopped sweetbreads, a half dozen chopped mushrooms, salt, pepper and turn all in dish to cool. Now form into cakes or cutlets, dip in egg and bread crumbs and fry as you would croquette. A porcelain kettle should be used always for sweetbreads.

Sweetbread Patties: Cook a pair of sweetbreads until tender in a very little water, take out and chop fine, season with salt and pepper. Keep the water in which the sweetbreads were cooked, add to it half a pint of cream, a tablespoon of butter and two of flour, blend to thicken it. Throw in this French peas which have been heated just before serving add three hard-boiled eggs chopped finely. Have your patty shells heated before filling, or use paper shells.

Creamed Sweetbreads: Take one pair of sweetbreads and cut into small pieces, half a pint of cream, one tablespoon of butter one tablespoon of flour, salt and white pepper. Melt the butter in a porcelain lined saucepan stir in the flour, and when this is thoroughly mixed, add the cream. This should make a smooth sauce. Now add the sweetbreads and about two tablespoons of chopped mushrooms (a good quality of canned mushrooms is all right). Season and cook for five minutes. When cooked add a tablespoon of sherry wine.

Sweetbread Pot: Break a pair of sweetbreads in small pieces and place half of them in the bottom of a pudding dish which has been lined with a very short puff paste. Drain a pint of fresh oysters and put a layer of these over the sweetbreads. Cover these two layers with a cream sauce of butter, flour and cream. Now add another layer of sweetbreads, then another layer of oysters. Cover with a little of the sauce, and add a top of the puff paste. Bake in a quick oven until brown.

Sweetbreads with Peas: Take three pairs of sweetbreads, and cut each one into four slices, season with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Fry in porcelain lined frying pan in butter for five or six minutes on each side. Remove and put on hot platter around the edge and cover with the following sauce: Mix together a scant ounce of butter, a half teaspoon of finely chopped parsley, half a teaspoon of lemon juice, a good pinch of salt and dash of white pepper. Mix together with a fork and spread over the sweetbreads. In the center of the platter arrange a can of French peas which have been heated just before serving add three hard-boiled eggs chopped finely. Have your patty shells heated before filling, or use paper shells.

New Designs for Dinner Gowns

THE small and somewhat informal dinner is no longer under the Lenten ban, and the result is an increase of these functions when dances and theatre parties are tabooed. Moreover, even when one or two are gathered together as dinner guests, the custom of wearing what suggests the decolette gown is rapidly growing in America, a pretty custom long followed by our English cousins.

The woman who cannot don pure decolette designs in dinner bodices may approach them with the small square or Dutch neck, or she can have the bodice cut quite deeply, and then hide her physical defects of throat and shoulder with flimsy lace, tulle or gauze. Thin arms may be hidden by the crinkly, shirred, mousquetaire sleeves coming down over the back of the hand in a deep point. Made of chiffon, gauze, net or lace, these mousquetaire sleeves are a blessing to the diner with thin, scrawny arms and are welcomed by all thin women.

The new fabrics intended for dinner frocks include striped, figured and bordered chiffon cloth, satin foulards, with fancy borders, satin messaline trimmed with Japanese embroidered lace, silky with Japanese embroidered lace, silk velvets to be made up with Irish, flit or cluny lace and net robes and the very sheer so-called tub fabrics, the latter exquisitely figured and bordered, reproducing the designs shown in figured and bordered chiffons.

The newest features of the dinner designs offered in exclusive shops are the shadowy designs in flowers, the tunic, real or simulated, and the inevitable touch of black on every costume, together with jeweled, principally rhinestone, buckles, buttons or ornaments.

The tunic is perhaps the most important departure in dress, and one which very few women of moderate means can attempt. It is a modified overskirt, with long, sweeping lines, and must be made of supple or clinging fabric. It is best described as a fitted upper garment without yoke or separate sleeves, fastened down the back and hanging over the skirt, somewhat longer in the back than in the front. Sometimes it fits the figure snugly. Again it is semi-fitting and short-waisted. Empire fashion. It is trying to the average figure and the home dressmaker alike.

Crepe de chine is no longer seen in dinner frocks but the new satin finished foulards may be used. The latter are most practical, for a dinner frock of soft, supple foulard with Dutch neck and elbow sleeves, may be converted into a serviceable and smart house gown by simply inserting a hand-embroidered batiste or linen dickey and attaching deep cuffs to match.

The Japanese embroidered laces so popular this season are simply silk net, heavily embroidered in huge Japanese designs, roses, chrysanthemums, etc., either in self-tone or contrast, and often with a thread of gold or silver running through the embroidery. They can be purchased for moderate prices, far below the usual "real" laces. A four or five inch banding in excellent design can be had for $2.50 per yard.

For the slender purse an admirable fabric for a spring dinner frock, which can also be utilized for summer wear, is the new French cotton voile in stripes or figures, self-tone or contrast. These imported voiles are soft and supple and combine well with Irish lace. The cotton voiles of American manufacture are only twenty-five cents a yard, but they are coarser and stiffer than the French brand.
